That's a beard of bees - six pounds or 21,000 of them - clustered on Don Cooke, showing confidence in his bee-handling for a BBC television crew.

Don Cooke Beats His Bee Record

By Sally Kniffin

If you look in the Guinness Book of Records you will discover that Don Cooke, 731 Miami Ave., holds the world's record for a beard of bees which he established last year on April 6 in Los Angeles on the Guinness TV show.

On June 20 of the year, for the BBC production, "The Record Breakers", which will appear on British television in August, Don proceeded to break his previous record of 5 pounds of bees.

This was the 106 time that Cooke, now retired from Cincinnati Gas & Electric Co., had put on a beard of bees. He started it as a feature at the Honey Festival held each September in Lebanon. This year Don is Vice President of the Festival.

Little did they know that, as Mrs. Cooke states, a well-fed bee is less aggressive. So an hour before Cooke puts on a beard the bees are sprayed with sugar water. As for getting stung, Don admitted to being stung badly once, at one of the Honey Festivals one year. "A front was coming through and it started to rain and I was walking around with the beard still on. A sting is like a cry for help and it sets off a chain reaction."

Nobody was stung this time, however, Don managed to acquire a record-breaking 6 pound beard of bees.

The affair was stayed at a spot outside Milford where the Cookes have some of their hives.

1981 Budget Is Approved

Village council approved at its July meeting a tentative 1981 budget of $322,550, up $25,198 from this year's figure.

While the figure is $7,000 higher than that reported to Village Views last month, council members still said that no request for a tax increase is contemplated.

Most of the increase is accounted for in salary increases for village police officers and maintenance employes. The budget also includes $8,500 for a new police cruiser, but makes no major slashes in any expense categories.

It is expected to be met by a projected $20,000 increase in intangibles tax returns, $5,500 more from mayor's court, and $7,000 in inheritance tax which was not budgeted last year.

Police Chief Warns of Bicycle Thefts

Police Chief Ron Pottorf says that there has been a marked increase in bicycle thefts in surrounding areas recently, and that while Terrace Park seemingly has not been affected, residents should take precautions.

Noting that youngsters often forget where they have left their bikes, he noted that "presently we have five unclaimed bicycles in the office" and urged that bikes be registered with the police so that owners can be identified.

Even more important, he said, is for residents to keep thier own records of their bicycles, listing, color, type, make, and serial number. Bicycles can be registered during office hours at the village office.

Bicycle registrations and inspections sponsored by the CocaCola Co. have been held here each summer, but registrations have fallen off in recent years. Pottorf said the difficulty has been that the inspections have been scheduled on such short notice that there has been no time to notify residents of the service.

Pottorf added that engraving tools for Operation Identification are available at the Village office for use by residents in marking appliances and other such burglary targets with the owners' Social Security numbers.

Council Moves On Fences, Cable TV

By Beth Kauffman

Despite a power outage lasting most of the meeting, council pressed forward with village business under candle light during its July meeting.

After holding public hearings for the 1981 budget ordinance and an ordinance which would delete "restaurant" from business zone A, neither hearing having attracted a village resident, council moved into its regularly scheduled July meeting.

Expressing concern that fences are being erected in the village which do not comply with ordinances, Gifford Glascoe, 505 Stanton Avenue., addressed council in an effort to make certain that in the furture, fences in the village comply with the law Councilman Rockel, chairman of Rules, Law, Planning and Zoning, reported that some abuses of the ordinance exist and that letters have been sent to the offenders requesting that their fences be brought into compliance.

"We expect correction," Rockel reported. "Side and rear fences are to be no higher than six feet and front fences are four feet with a see-through of 30% on the other side."

ACTING ON the recommendation of Building and Grounds chairman Les Overway, council passes a resolution to join a country-wide Intercommunity Regulatory Commission for cable TV The commission, made up of a representative from each community, would monitor cable TV service and foster public access programming.

Avenue has been appointed Scoutmaster of Troop 286, succeeding Bob Halley.

Dick Mittendorf, with the aid of fine assistants, has rejuvenated the Webelos program in Terrace Park and most of the current Webelos will be of Boy Scout age during the next school year. These assistants have agreed to serve as assistants to Dick in the Boy Scout program. Also of importance now is the success of the current Cub Scout program where fine leadership has re-instituted a very active Pack 97 of about active programs planned for 50 boys.

Troop 286 completed a very successful year early in June with an Eagle Scout Court of Andy Dumford. During the winter months, Eagle Courts were also held for Jamie Allison and Todd Channer. There is a strong core of youth leaders in the troop now which will be of real help to Dick Mittendorf in the ongoing scouting program.

Bob Halley and his assistant Scoutmasters, Jim Trester and Jim Allison, will serve as active members of the Scout Committee. At a recent meeting the Boy Scout Committee appointments were made and work started for the next year. Additional help from adults is always welcomed

It would be funded by 2% of the gross revenue of the cable TV corporation.

Voting against the resolution were Councilmen Rockel and Miller.

Expressing concern that special interest groups would be looking for time and funding on public channels, Rockel recommended that council go slowly in its decision. Miller expressed concern that it might be a step toward establishing a bureaucratic regulatory commission.

Commission activities would concern the service of Warner-Amex, which has been granted a franchise to serve Terrace Park. Other communities in the system are Funding from cable TV revenues is expected to yield $70,000 a year to finance a commission staff, of which $1,500-2,000 is estimated would come from fees paid by Terrace Park users.

Under the franchise agreement, the village is to get 3% of the revenue produced from cable TV service here.

Council discussed the question of responsibility in the replacement of an enbankment bridge at Elm Avenue, in the event a scenic railroad were built. Chairman Overway advised that his committee would find out who would be responsible. The county engineer is currently determining if the state is responsible for the proposed rebuilding of the bridge and, if not, Terrace Park will proceed with its request to the county.

A message to the people of TERRACE PARK.

Due to reasons of health it has become necessary to offer the Market for sale.

Recognizing its historic nature and importance to the Village, we believe that the community should know of our intentions to sell, and have an opportunity to respond. This opportunity will remain open to anyone in the Village for the next four weeks, after which time we will decide on the next course of action.

Swim Teams Win Second Meet

By Eleanor Winchester

In an exciting, close-fought contest, the Terrace Park meet of the season, 331-296, over Madeira.

Madeira was 14 points ahead after the diving, but after Free: 1. Stephanie Haines, 2. the first two swimming events Terrace Park pulled gradually ahead. Some very close finishes had spectators cheering frantically.

According to head coach Tim Morrison, the Madeira meet was "by far, our best effort of the young season! Not only because we won the meet, but because many of our swimmers are becoming more aware of how to swim good races . . . The conditioning we're building in training was really evident. We were much tougher than Madeira in the second half of the races. Most impressive was our team spirit. We seem to be building a real sense of team pride."

were the two extremes in age groups - the eight-andunders and the 15-17 year olds. In fact, the eight-andunder girls won all six of their races and the 15-17 boys all seven of theirs. The 9 and 10 year olds were not far behind. The team continues to suffer from a shortage of 11-12 and 13-14 year-old swimmers, as well as divers.

It's Birthday Time For Garden Club

The Terrace Park Garden Club is turning 60 this year. Since its founding, it has continually contributed to village beautification. Indeed, the encouragement of civic planting is one of the purposes written into the club constitution.

The spring bulb splashy red geranium garden on Terrace Place, the stone bench and evergreen planting on the village green, and the Christmas decorations at the Community House are representative of the club's current beautification projects. Monies to finance these efforts are raised through a once-a-year fund raiser, the Christmas house tour, and in alternate years, the fall Country Mark-
