

Mayor Tells Council No Septic/Sewer Changes on Calendar

Submitted by Martha Lewis-Rassi

The May 2019 meeting of the Village of Terrace Park Council was called to order by Mayor Tepe. The first order of business was the swearing in of four of the five recently certified EMS Village volunteers. Mayor Tepe mentioned how fortunate the Village is to have continued volunteer support. The following were sworn by the Mayor: John Gatch, Ben Stevens, Erica Moore, and Jennifer Wade. At a later meeting, Cavan Scheetz will be sworn into service.

Mayor: Mr. Tepe recently spoke to the Hamilton County Health Commissioner concerning an update on the installation of sewers in the Village. This will be a very long process. The District is now completing a survey and no decision is pending in the near future. With warmer weather, the Mayor asked residents to be more aware of children out and to slow down. He then announced the retirement of Hester Sullivan, Clerk of Council, and thanked her for her hard work and service.

Police Chief/Village Administrator: Chief Hayhow also thanked Hester for her assistance. He noted that an address change has been approved for 95 Miami, now addressed as 95 Michigan. He stated also that 55 golf carts have been registered and complimented residents for their support.

Planning/Zoning: A meeting was held on April 23 regarding the health and maintenance of the many trees in the Village.

Finance: Mr. LeMay noted that work has already begun on the 2020 annual budget and a public hearing will be held in the future.

Public Works: A thanks was given by Mr. Lindell to all of those who have been volunteering for training to support services to the Village. Regina Sharp was also thanked for her recruiting efforts. The Mayor asked what changes have taken place that has resulted in having more new volunteers. A discussion followed.

With no continued or new business, the Mayor adjourned the meeting.

It's been an exciting season for the Mariemont Men's Lacrosse Team. The team played in the DII Men's State Championship on June 1st against Chargin Falls at Ohio Wesleyan University after come-back game against St. Francis DeSales in the state semi-finals in Centerville last month. It's not how big you are big you are. It's HOW BIG YOU PLAY!

Dear Neighbors,

June is here and summer returns to Terrace Park! The mulberries at Miami Grove are fat and ripe, the pool is open, and the sprawling, old trees on the Village Green are full and green again.

It's time for another class of Terrace Parkers to receive their diplomas and venture out into the world to start their own adventures. Graduation is always a busy and important time in Terrace Park with parties and family in town and there is plenty of reason to celebrate. Growing up in Terrace Park isn't perfect, it's true. There can be challenges and limitations to life in a town so small when you are trying to find yourself and figure out your way in the world, but a youth spent in Terrace Park comes with incredible opportunity and inimitable experience.

There is perhaps nowhere else left in America where a six year old can walk home from school alone for lunch or where you can stop in the post office for your dog to get biscuit from the postmaster, or ride your bike behind the fire truck in a Labor Day parade. Few places can offer a Halloween as exciting and magical to a child, or a Christmas tree lighting with friends and neighbors singing together on the village commons. Terrace Park is so volunteer driven that a sense of service to others becomes ingrained in our identity and passed on to our youth.

Graduation is a time to celebrate the culmination of this upbringing. Our seniors will venture out from Terrace Park and accomplish amazing things we cannot yet even fathom. And for some, years from now when they have children of their own, they will return to this quiet village on the Little Miami River to look for a home of their own, and all of this will start again, just as it has for more than a century. It's the Terrace Park story, and it's a good one. Until next month I remain,

Your editor,
Steve Early

BBQ King of TPSTC

It was a tough competition but Steve Goellner was crowned TP King of Bbq during the TPSTC's Memorial Day challenge! Mike Kaplan and Erika Long placed second and third. A huge thank you to judges Mayor Tepe and Katie Holocher of Out + Outfit.

Two teams from Terrace Park earned the opportunity to represent Ohio at Destination Imagination's Global Finals competition in Kansas City, Missouri. After working on their projects, which require creativity and out-of-the-box thinking, for the entire school year and winning at both the regional and state levels, both teams presented their work to a global panel appraisers and teams from around the world. The 5th grade team, the Hurricane Helpers, earned 7th place in the Service Learning division for their work on an ongoing pen pal club with a school in Puerto Rico. The 5th/6th grade team, The Trouble-makers, placed in the top third of the ninety teams in the Fine Arts division. In addition to the competition, the students participated in learning workshops, attended presentations and met other students from around the globe.

Letter to the Community

An open letter to our community,

Last year, when we lost our Jack, our inclination was to do nothing. We didn't want to mourn quietly or hold a small memorial. A volatile numbness set in – a scream that rumbled endlessly cutting out all thought – and nothing was all we could bear. But as soon as we were able to begin reaching out to our community of family and friends consisting of neighbors, coworkers, fellow volunteers, school and gym buddies, and so many more, we were swept up in your loving arms.

Our kitchen table become a meeting ground and all we had to do was nod, “yes,” shake our head, “no,” or drink gallons of tea and laugh at life. Our community did what they do best. They loved.

A sea of people supported us not only in making Jack's memorial happen, but by attending, participating and allowing us the opportunity to ask you for what we needed -- a sense of normalcy, a look in the eye at Kroger, a hug, a laugh, whatever you thought could comfort us we would accept. This horror was new to us and somehow, we recognized that as we muddled through you were right there beside us, unsure of the next step.

Little could we comprehend the door we had opened.

You gave us so much. Hugs in the street, a “hello” at Kroger, invitations to nights out, an extra seat at the historically men's Friday poker, meals, care packages, therapy sessions at the gym, toilet paper, photos, bleach, a necklace, handmade crafts, a ring for Pete, a windchime, books, cards, donations and so much more. We cannot list it all.

As we moved forward and gave ourselves permissions – to laugh, to hug, to smile – we were called brave. The truth though, is that you are brave: saying something when you don't know what to say, reaching out when you feel like you may be grabbing a fragile piece of glass, laughing with us instead of screaming. We know that it must have taken amazing courage to knock on our door for impromptu visits filled with hugs. You have gifted us with your stories and conversations about Jack, about your families, about love, about loss and about mental health.

These gifts you have given us – gifts that took your energy, time and love -- are without a doubt the reason we are capable of getting up in the morning,

So, thank you. Thank you for letting us hold up our head and laugh. Thank you for rescuing us from the undertow of grief, lifting us up, and placing us back on shore.

We have one final request. Let us all be the change when it comes to mental health. Not just starting the conversation but finding cures and finding ways to bring about change to our mental health system.

If you or someone you love is struggling, please reach out and keep reaching out until someone listens. Be honest. Be direct. Be brave. Because if you are, someone will catch you. We, your community, will catch you.

Love,
Pete, Chandi, Bren, Neil and Jack (because we know he is thankful you were there for us when he could not be)

TPEG Sponsors Film Festival

The Terrace Park Environmental Group (TPEG) is a sponsor of this years Wild and Scenic Film festival, which will be held on June 8th at Winton Woods Park. Twelve short films will be shown starting at 7:00pm, with light bites and a cash bar opening at 5:30pm. You can access a short description of the films and purchase tickets at the Ohio River Foundations website or this link:

FilmFestival.html

The Terrace Park Environmental Group is known for their annual electronics recycling drive in the village, the currently-on-hiatus Polar Bear Plunge, as well as many, many other big ideas that have failed to launch but were really fun for the group to come up with.

Every year this film festival is a fun event and TPEG encourage anyone with a love for the outdoors (and the Little Miami River!) to attend.

Garden Club News - Arbor Day and more

Submitted by Christine Hawkins
Terrace Park Garden Club (TPGC) President, April Cain, did a presentation about Arbor Day for TPE first graders. Each student received a tree sapling to plant in his or her yard. All the tables looked spectacular, but the winner of the

May "Dining in Your Favorite City" table setting event was the New Orleans Mardi Gras theme created by: Ogle Annett, Tina Turner, April Cain, Barb Gilchrist, Sallie Lyons, Linda Rockaway and Marla Bagley.
June 4th Meeting – Walking Tour of Smale Riverfront Park

Join the Garden Club on a walking tour of Smale Riverfront Park led by Michael George of Cincinnati Parks on Tuesday, June 4th from 10:00-11:30 AM. Meet across the street from the parking garage on Mehring Way. At 12:00, the Garden Club will meet up at Moerlein Lager House (115 Joe Nuxhall Way) for lunch.

Did you know Ohio's state flower is the red carnation? Ohio adopted its official state flower, in 1904. The state legislature chose the red carnation to honor President William McKinley, an Ohioan, who was assassinated in 1901. McKinley liked to wear red carnations stuck in his button-hole on the lapel of his jacket. (source: ohiohistorycentral.org)

Thank you to all who purchased plants and flowers at the Flower Fest on the Green sale on May 4th! TPCG received 30% of all of these sales from the Old Garden Shack and uses this money to beautify Terrace Park public flowerbeds and flower boxes.

Lacrosse Program- A Brotherhood

Submitted by Lon Stirsmann

The sport of lacrosse is now ingrained in the fabric of our community. As the Cincinnati Enquirer's Scott Springer recently wrote in his May 1st article, "The nine miles on Wooster Pike between Terrace Park and Mariemont may be the most fertile local ground in Ohio high school lacrosse. Mariemont High School, which has all of 197 boys based on the most recent calculations used by the Ohio High School Athletic Association, is the top Division II team in the state of Ohio."

Lacrosse is the fastest growing youth sport in the country. The Terrace Park Bulldogs were founded in 1995 by Steve Peterson and that first team consisted of eight boys from the village. The Bulldogs grew to become the feeder for the successful Mariemont Warrior middle and high school programs and that initial group of eight formed the foundation for what was to come. The next year 37 boys signed up for the youth team. This year there are 61 boys on the Bulldogs; 27 on the junior high squad; and 49 playing on the two high school teams.

The secret sauce to the incredible success and participation/retention rates in our boys lacrosse program is the emphasis placed on the concept of brotherhood by the coaches at each level of the program. Several activities are specifically designed to build and foster that. Perhaps the most identifiable is the lacrosse nickname that each boy receives when he joins the program and carries throughout his lacrosse career (and into adulthood in many cases). For the last 15 years, the high school alumni game is played Thanksgiving weekend here in the village. Participants range in age from freshmen in high school to graduates from the earliest varsity teams. While the game is always entertaining, the camaraderie displayed among the players before, during, and after the game is noteworthy and what keeps bringing guys back to play year after year.

Bulldog Youth Night takes place at Kusel Stadium on an annual basis and the younger players take the field and strut their stuff during halftime of the junior varsity and varsity games. Hearing their nicknames over the loudspeaker as Coach P calls the action is a thrill for the boys and always brings laughs from the crowd. A very popular event each year is when the high school players come to Drackett Field to spend a practice day with the Bulldogs, talking and joking with the boys, and conducting drills with them in their respective skill groups.

This year high school coach Michael Long initiated the first new player clinics for youngsters in kindergarten, first, and second grade. What we have seen is that while our boys play together as a group for years and years and experience a significant success on the field, they also develop meaningful relationships with their peers that last long after their playing days end. Some of the older ones also provide program continuity and give back to the game, as there are four graduates of the boys lacrosse program now serving as coaches on the youth, middle, and high school teams.

So many people in our community have dedicated their time, energy, and households over the years to support the growth and development our lacrosse program. Far too many to list them all, and at the risk of omitting some deserving mention (my apologies) I am compelled to call out the following for their significant contributions:

Coaches Division

The Dunning families – Rick was one of the first lacrosse coaches in town and kids from several communities benefited from his involvement and love of the game. His sons Matt, Spencer and Bill have all coached locally and Matt was probably the first Terrace Park kid to play organized lacrosse in town, joining the Cincinnati Styx club team in 1993. Now a third generation is involved in the sport as grandson Owen (Taco) is a Bulldog, and we have more, younger Dunnings in the queue waiting for their turn.

Steve and Judy Peterson – I sometimes ponder just how many thousands of hours these two have spent in support of lacrosse in our community. But then my head starts to hurt so I go get a beer.

Steve Schooler and Dave Walter – A dozen years each coaching the Bulldogs, still doing so after your boys had moved on to college. Well done.

Graham Harden – Thirteen years providing outstanding coaching, mentoring, and leadership to our sons and daughters. But it his grace, attitude, and character that make him an inspirational role model for us all.

Parents Division

Marty and Kelly Schmidt – You provided the program with four fine young men. That contribution stands above the rest.

The Fries, Galls, McClorey's, and Rolanders – You all gave us three. We would love to have another. What do you think?

Rick and Katie Mileham – The runaway winners of the Lifetime Family Planning Award, you've had a son playing in the program every year since 2000...and Jack is just a freshman. Now that is true commitment to the cause.

Postscript: The Sisterhood - While the boys program had a big head start in years active, the girls program in the district has grown markedly the past several years. They also benefit from a dedicated group of involved coaches, parents, and players, and have become a force to reckon with, watch, and celebrate. The high school girls varsity team is the defending state champion, winning in their first appearance ever in the state title game!

Hats Off to You, Ladies!

Terrace Park residents Carrie Carothers (left) and Jennifer Bucholz (right) recently co-chaired the 2019 Hats Off Luncheon benefitting the Cincinnati Parks Foundation. More than 1,500 guests gathered at Smale Riverfront Park on Friday, May 10 in their finest chapeaux for cocktails under the Suspension Bridge followed by a gourmet lunch with presentation of the Phyllis W. Smale Award given by Procter & Gamble. After the sold-out event concluded, an after-party commenced at the 21C Hotel. Carrie and Jennifer worked for more than nine months to ensure that this successful event raised more funds than ever for the Cincinnati Parks Foundation. Carrie and Jennifer's outfits styled by The Wardrobe in Mariemont.

Terrace Park Fishing Report

May was great for fishing around Terrace Park. The Little Miami River is alive with fish and the Grand Valley bass have woken up from their winter slumber. Grand Valley produced large numbers of largemouth bass that were aggressively feeding after the long winter. Fish were caught along the banks on a variety of presentations. Some larger bass were caught working artificial worms out deeper. The GV fishing tourney on April 27th was well attended once again with 28 boats competing. All of the boats caught fish and the winner had a total of over 7 pounds. This is a great event with door prizes, raffles and lunch provided. Consider joining next year for a fun time! The summer months should still produce quality largemouth bites at GV with peak feeding times earlier and later in the day as the temperatures rise. The hot temperatures will create a topwater bite in lowlight hours and deeper presentations during the day. The Little Miami River produces fish all year round and the summer months are some of the best times to catch fish. Early June should continue to produce White and Hybrid Bass in the LMR while the Smallmouth will continue to bite as the water temps stay cool. Using some small spinners through the rifles should produce results. For more information and detailed fishing reports join the Terrace Park Anglers Club group page on Facebook.com

Memorial Bed Blooms in Remembrance

Submitted by The TP Garden Club

The beautiful garden you see by the bridge, just across from the Village Green, is planted and maintained every year by members of the Terrace Park Garden Club and dedicated each

Memorial Day to the memory of the club members who have passed away the previous year. This year, the Memorial Bed is dedicated to the memory of Adrienne Bente, Jean Belliveau, Pat Henley, Jeanette McMillan, Lynn Nelson and Ruth Rugh. Please remember them in your hearts and think of them every time you pass by this beautiful garden. Watch it change and grow with the seasons as a reminder of how their love for the Village grew over many years.

Home is where the heart is.

With my wife's needs becoming too much to care for myself, Marjorie P. Lee's St. Charles Place is exactly what I'm looking for, as her new home. St. Charles Place provides an intimate setting that is unlike anything you'll see in other nursing homes. The upscale, elegant apartment will provide ample room for our family to visit and for her to keep her favorite belongings.

She'll love looking out the extra-large windows into the neighborhood, eating great food in the Adams Café overlooking the gardens, and taking part in specialized activities just for her and her new friends. What's most important to me is that she'll be happy in her new home. And it's even more comforting to know she'll always have a home here even if she outlives her savings.

For a personal tour of our new St. Charles Place household, opening later this summer, or other Long-term care options for your loved one contact Karen Christopher at 513.533.5000.
