

More Thanks and Kudos For Healthcare Heroes

Submitted by Sue Porter

A Valentine's Day campaign to thank local health care heroes for their Covid-19 service, led Mayor Tom Tepe to declare March 22 "Health Care Worker Appreciation Day" in Terrace Park.

It all began when Joan Tollefson invited residents to submit letters of appreciation and sweet treats for distribution among nearly 40 health care workers in advance of Covid's two-year milestone. By the time council member Regina Sharp read the mayor's proclamation at village council's March 1 meeting, the list of health care heroes praised for their selfless commitment and courage exceeded 70.

Also receiving plaudits at the monthly meeting were the four newest members of Terrace Park Volunteer Emergency Medical Services: Jessica Pembleton, Jenn Arnovitz, Kyle Welling and Creigh Long, who successfully completed requirements to become the newest Terrace Park Volunteer Emergency Services technicians.

Former Terrace Park auxiliary police officer Joe Murray attended the meeting to introduce himself as a candidate for Ohio 27th District House of Representatives in the May 3 election. Murray is a graduate of Turpin High School and has a bachelor's degree in criminal justice. He wants to succeed Tom Brinkman, who is not seeking re-election due to term limitations.

An ordinance and two resolutions were approved and as a result:

- Zoning code revisions go into effect March 31 for fences in a rear yard on a corner lot, uniform openness for fences facing a front yard and guidelines for parking trailers in a side yard;

- Administrator Jerry Hayhow may distribute a three percent increase in the wages and salaries budget among employees, with raises awarded at his discretion; and

- The police department will replace an aging cruiser with a 2022 Ford Explorer at a cost of $32,945.

Support For Ukraine

On Saturday, March 5th, the TPE fourth grade girls hosted a lemonade stand at the Village Green to benefit Ukraine. Together they raised over $5,200 for the Sunflower of Peace Foundation. Thank you to car-part.com, the Birch, and everyone who came out and supported this fundraiser.

A Bit of Terrace Park Baseball History

A child sized Terrace Park baseball uniform was recently donated to the Terrace Park Historical Society. It was purchased from the TP Recreation Commission in the early 1980's when they were selling off old uniforms. Does anyone remember wearing them? A team photo of kids actually wearing these classic pin stripes would be a welcome addition to our display.

And did you know, sometime in the 1990's there was a set of "baseball cards" created featuring the Terrace Park police officers? If anyone has a set, the TPHS would love to add them to our collection.

Please contact Mariemont School Foundation trustees Liz Alter at elalter@cincinnati.rr.com or Leslie Willett at leslie_willett@yahoo.com with any questions.

Dear Neighbors,

I have to apologize for causing some concern with last month's issue. I ran an old Cincinnati Post article from the 1930's about a robbery on Wooster Pike and though a line preceding the article stated as much, several residents didn't catch that part and called the village office thinking we had some pistol-packin' bandits on the loose. I can confirm that we do not. Consider it an unintentional April Fool's prank from your local paper.

A look back at fifty years of Village Views articles will show that there has always been a feeling in the village that crime is on the rise and "things used to be so much safer." People said it in 1969 and they said it in 1999. They will be saying in 2059. The truth is that it has always been a safe place and still is. That's why our first graders can ride their bikes to school and, as you will see in this issue, a man stumbling out of the woods is enough to send the police out to investigate. That's not to say we should take it for granted or leave the keys in the golf cart, but here in the little village by the river, things are still about as close to a Norman Rockwell painting as they can be.

Terrace Park will be blooming this month as spring rolls in so get out for a walk at Miami Grove or Kroger Field and take in the glory. It's time to start planning graduation parties and lacrosse championships as summer will be here before we know it. Until next month I remain,

Your Editor,
Steve Early
