

Arborist Castator Retires with Admirable Legacy & Council's Gratitude

Submitted by Sue Porter

Terrace Park is seeking an urban forester to succeed local resident and certified arborist Mark Castator, who has held the part-time position the past 10 years. His retirement was announced at Village Council's Sept. 14 meeting by Mayor Tom Tepe, who praised Castator for his accomplishments and thanked him for his service.

"He gave us great tree planting, had great forethought and education and brought some important issues to light," Tepe said.

Most notably, Castator was responsible for keeping the village-owned forest of more than 3,000 trees healthy and adding 60 new species and cultivars to the registry, which more than qualifies Terrace Park for arboretum certification by nationally accepted standards.

Over the years, he has worked with the local garden club to source trees for their annual Arbor Day tree giveaway; has regularly spoken at the elementary school on Earth Day; established a nursery to lower the cost of tree acquisition; and has worked with the State of Ohio on its Tree City program, which has honored Terrace Park for 38 consecutive years, making it the third most-honored municipality in Greater Cincinnati.

"He's been a good partner and educator," said Regina Sharp, councilmember who has oversight for buildings and grounds. She noted that in years past, 30 percent of village trees needed replacement due to blight or other issues, but under Castator's management that number has been reduced to 10 percent. Vigilant tree maintenance has also meant fewer broken trees on power lines following storms.

Tepe invited residents who may be interested in the position or can recommend someone for the job to contact Village Administrator Jerry Hayhow or Councilmember Sharp.

As part of his mayor's report, Tepe proclaimed Sept. 30 Virginia Cook Marquett Day in recognition of her 100th birthday. He also thanked residents for leading and supporting the Labor Day festivities and 5K Bulldog Run, which raised funds for the Terrace Park Rec-

Earlier this year Mark Castator, (right) accepted the village's 38th Tree City Award from Ohio Department of Natural Resources representatives. In retirement, Castator will continue to offer certified arborist insight gratis to local residents who have concerns about trees on their property that are not owned by the village. It is his hope the village acquires arboretum certification and residents will "plant the right tree in the right spot." And if anyone wonders, his favorite tree is sassafras because it has beautiful fall foliage, smells great and feeds birds.

Dear Neighbors,

With a September full of fantastic weather already in the rear view mirror, we are now on to October, and with it comes our favorite holiday here in Terrace Park...Halloween! Yes, it's that time of the year again as our grand, old trees are dropping their fall colors, and the garden club's autumn bounty sale has the neighborhood porches looking festive with pumpkins, mums, and cornstalks. As I write this, several houses already have their halloween decorations out, and with Pumpkin Fest just around the corner, it will be a month of spooky fun that culminates with the big night itself, October 31st. Halloween falls on a Tuesday this year, so expect the annual parade of costumes around the elementary school that afternoon, with trick-or-treating from 6-8pm. It's a good thing the following day is All Saint's Day, as the teachers at Terrace Park Elementary will be candidates for sainthood after dealing with the sugar highs and sleep deprivation that always seem to follow a big, old-fashioned, Terrace Park Halloween.

We are also honoring our neighbor Virginia Marquett this month, who celebrated her 100th birthday on September 30, 2023. Virginia was born in Terrace Park in 1923 and has spent most of her life living here in the village. Her father, Matt Cook, was police chief for many years and she is also a member of the Iuen family, one of Terrace Park's oldest clans, who have been in the area for generations. Mrs. Marquett has witnessed an incredible amount of change in her century of Terrace Park living, and we at the Village Views wish her a very happy birthday!

Well, that's all for now. Start stocking up on that Halloween candy and enjoy these warm, golden October days here in the little village by the river. We'll be on to Thanksgiving and the holidays before you know it. So until next month I remain,

Your Editor,
Steve Early

Remembering a Teacher and a Friend

Terrace Park resident Nathan Turner, MHS Class of 2022, set out to leave a memorial for one of his favorite teachers from Terrace Park Elementary, Jane Concannon. Nathan was new to Terrace Park in 2009 and had Mrs. Concannon as his half-day Kindergarten teacher. He remembers her as a kind soul who always made everyone feel welcome and special. He loved her way of including everyone and calling everyone her friend. Nathan remembers one of her favorite books, Mrs. Spitzer's Garden, and how he got to take Chester the Monkey (puppet), home to show off to his family and write about their adventures. Many parents referred to her style of teaching as "Mary Poppins-like". Jane Concannon was well loved by all.

In March 2019, Jane Concannon passed away from ALS. She definitely left a void in our community and Nathan decided he wanted to create a memorial to her. He started to raise money and collect plastic bottle caps and lids to be turned into a bench for the Kindergarten playground. He raised $400 and collected 400 lbs of lids to get the recycled park bench. The help of friends and neighbors made the task of collecting enough plastic caps a lot easier. This bench is a "friend bench", a place where a child can sit to signal to others that they need someone to play with. The bench totally captures the spirit of our sweet Jane Concannon.

Terrace Park Council asks for Support to Renew an Existing Tax Levy on November 7th

Terrace Park voters will be asked to renew an existing 2.5-mill operating levy on November 7th, 2023. This is a renewal of an existing operating levy and will not increase or decrease your current taxes.

If approved, the levy will generate $320,000 annually for the village to be used for Police, Fire, EMS, streets, sidewalks, maintenance and village administration. It represents approximately 13% of overall Terrace Park operating funds.

If renewed, the levy will continue to cost homeowners $250 per $100,000 of Hamilton County assessed property value for 5 years (note: an assessed property value is 35% of the Hamilton County determined market value).

Terrace Park village operations represent the smallest portion (15%) of your annual real estate tax bill with Mariemont public schools representing 65% of the same and the 12 Hamilton County levies accounting for the remaining 20%.

Unlike Mariemont, Madeira, Williams Meadow, Wyoming and Indian Hill, Terrace Park does not have an income tax (Wyoming has an income tax for schools as well). Terrace Park has no fees for garbage collection.

Your village committees, departments and council continue to operate in a fiscally responsible manner. Examples include a significant reduction in cost for leaf/brush leaf removal, a refinancing of our bond is-

Law & Order

Submitted by Eric Schmidt
During the afternoon (DAY-TIME!) of 8/10, officers were dispatched to Wooster Pike for a report of an elderly man walking his dog, carrying a shotgun. (In our little village, down by the river?) The officers responded and did not find anyone who was walking a dog and carrying a shotgun.
During the early morning hours of 8/13, an officer received a call about a subject walking on recreation Commission.

In council action:
• A resolution to admit David Fine, Matt Ziegler and Drew Walter into volunteer Emergency Medical Service was approved;
• Rumpke was granted a five-year contract extension for trash removal and recycling pickup;
• The Ohio Department of Transportation received a revised consent agreement for its 2024 repaving of Wooster Pike through Terrace Park that permits reinstatement of reflective markers by the village;
• The second reading of an ordinance to create a water line reconstruction, repair and maintenance fund supported by residents’ water bill assessments was approved; and
• The annual forestry fund assessment to defray the cost of planting, maintaining, trimming and removing trees within the village right-of-way in 2024 was approved.

Information gleaned from monthly reports and meeting comments:
• The village maintenance crew will begin leaf pickup in mid-October. In the meantime, residents may dispose of their leaves at the Environmental Services Center across from the Village Green. Leaves may not be placed on village streets.
• The Village Green cannons have been refurbished thanks to Mike Gehrig’s dona-

• The history of Terrace Park and Covalt Station is compellingly presented in “Amid the Honorable Plenty” by Steve Early, editor of Terrace Park Village Views. Favorable reviews by Mayor Tepe and Councilman Jeff LeMay were not intended to promote sales; rather, to bring attention to the book.
• The Terrace Park Fire Department’s new pickup truck is replacing an aging pumper truck that will be sold at the Hamilton County Auction along with the village’s other surplus items. EMS Chief John Maggard said that unlike the pumper truck, the pickup truck does not require special driver’s training and will more easily answer most emergency calls.
• The light pole that was accidentally struck in the Wooster Pike median near Park Road is being replaced by the insured party;
• The villages of Terrace Park and Mariemont jointly made a bulk purchase of 500 gallons of liquid de-icer, thereby reducing the cost per gallon and ultimately the cost of cold weather street maintenance.

It is for these reasons that council asks for your support and a “Yes” vote to renew on November 7th.

TP’s Hillenbrand Achieves Monumental Success with 75th Picture Book Release

Beloved author and illustrator Will Hillenbrand is delighted to announce the release of his two captivating picture books, The Voice in the Hollow and Little Red. These beautifully crafted stories will captivate young readers with their mesmerizing illustrations and heartfelt narratives.

Will Hillenbrand, acclaimed author and illustrator, is set to release his 75 and 76 picture book, “The Voice in the Hollow.” This captivating winter tale follows the journey of a young mouse who takes a shortcut home, only to find himself embarking on a fantastical adventure guided by a mysterious guardian.

When a blizzard unexpectedly forces the library to close early, young Hubert takes a daring shortcut through the enchanted Hollow on his way home. Just as he gathers his courage to press on, a fox appears, offering to lend a hand. Together, they traverse treacherous terrains, including snow-covered landscapes, ominous forests, fallen trees, ravines, and mountains.

Throughout their journey, the young mouse and his guardian encounter hidden scenes that evoke myths surrounding the origins of Earth’s mysterious features and nature’s erratic behavior. A double gatefold opens to reveal the illustration of the Bear spirit awakening in a stunning twist, engulfing the mystery in a heart-pounding adventure.

As Hubert nears his home, he realizes his guiding companion has disappeared. Filled with wonder, he rushes home to share his exhilarating journey through the Hollow with his family.

With sparse yet compelling text, “The Voice in the Hollow” is poised to become a family favorite for those cozy nights spent reading on snowy evenings. Will Hillenbrand’s masterful illustrations bring the wintry landscapes to life, creating sumptuous scenes that sometimes feel cozy while, at other times, ominously captivating.

“What I find energizing and inspiring about editing books by Will Hillenbrand is that his work is always evolving in surprising ways. I’m thrilled to have gotten to edit The Voice in the Hollow because I think it is his most innovative yet--a book in which he really stretched himself and took chances.” Mary Cash, VP and Editor In Chief, Holiday House Publishing, Inc. NY, New York.

Critics have applauded Hillenbrand’s remarkable storytelling skills, with Kirkus Reviews stating, “[STARRED REVIEW] Hillenbrand at his best... a ghost story you’ll love to share!” School Library Journal adds, “[STARRED REVIEW] There’s not a word out of place in this blustery adventure, a masterful collaboration of illustration and text.”

Will Hillenbrand’s “The Voice in the Hollow” artfully balances the thrill of an adventure with a sense of reassurance, making it a must-read for children aged 5 to

8. This beautifully crafted picture book, adorned with finesse, will captivate readers of all ages.

HONK, HONK, BEEP, BEEP!

Little Red, another endearing creation by Hillenbrand, puts a fresh spin on the classic fairy tale.

Again, Hillenbrand captivates readers with his heartwarming new picture book, “Little Red.” This delightful tale follows the adventures of a charismatic and determined pick-up truck who becomes the hero of his community during a snowstorm that threatens to derail their annual tree-lighting festivities.

“Little Red” is set to enchant readers of all ages, delivering a powerful message of friendship, community, and the indomitable spirit of helping others. The book draws inspiration from classics such as “Katy and the Big Snow,” presenting Little Red as a lovable and resilient protagonist who stops at nothing to ensure the success of the much-anticipated holiday event.

With a heart of gold and a mighty spirit, Little Red becomes the embodiment of selflessness and goodwill. As the snowstorm blankets the streets, making it difficult for the community to gather for the tree-lighting ceremony, Little Red rallies to aid those who need a little HELP and keep the line moving to the main event.

Children and adults alike will be enchanted by Will Hillenbrand’s beautifully crafted illustrations and engaging storytelling. The book’s enticing cover, adorned with foil accents, adds a festive touch, making “Little Red” the perfect addition to any holiday reading list.

“I am thrilled to bring Little Red to life,” says the author, Will Hillenbrand. “Through this story, I aim to inspire readers with the importance of community and the power of lending a helping hand, even in the face of adversity.” I’ve dedicated this book to the tiny towns of Frostburg, College Hill, Mairemont, and Terrace Park. All places that have helped me along the way.

“Little Red” and “The Voice in the Hollow” will be released early in October at select bookstores, The Bookmatters, The Bookshelf, The Bookery, The Book Bus, Downbound Books, Joseph-Beth Booksellers, and others. Online orders can be personalized through the author’s secure website at www.willhillenbrand.com.

Whether snuggled up by a cozy fireplace or shared in a classroom setting, these heartwarming tales will surely entertain and leave a lasting impact on readers of all ages.

Will Hillenbrand is an accomplished author and illustrator of over 75 children’s books. His distinctive style and engaging narratives have garnered him critical acclaim and a devoted following. With each book, Hillenbrand seeks to capture the hearts and imaginations of readers, encouraging a love for reading and exploring new worlds.
