Recreation Plans, Corporation Limits Studied

By Lynn Nelson
Speaking earnestly and sincerely, Carl Lindell, long-time Terrace Park resident and civic leader, requested village council to take a long, hard look at recreation plans being considered by the Recreation Committee before making a commitment.

Lindell, speaking as an interested citizen at the April 8 council meeting, acknowledged the need for additional rec space in the village. He said his concern arose, however, after he viewed a mapped plan that designates some 16 soccer fields, 8 to 10 baseball diamonds, and 3 or 4 parking areas being contemplated for construction near his personal property and the Swim Club.

These facilities would be incorporated into the new Kroger Hills State Park planned for the land area between Terrace Park and Mariemont, and reviewed in last month's Village Views.

Lindell said the operators of Stumps Boat Club share his concern, particularly as regards heavy traffic and vandalism that such extensive playfields would attract.

Instead, Lindell hopes some type of wilderness-green belt area will be retained between his land, the Swim Club, and Stumps' land, and then facilities for active sports be build adjacent to this.

Mayor Frank Corbin hastened to assure Lindell that council has not endorsed any plan thus far, and that the entire recreation development plan is under consideration by several groups.

One is the local Recreation Committee which was to meet April 9. Also an open meeting was scheduled for April 10 in the Mariemont Council Chamber where types of land use were to be studied.

Corbin said he, too, has seen the plan to which Lindell referred, and he thinks it is being considered as one into which Terrace Park and the surrounding community would grow . . . that the plan takes the long-range future view. Corbin also assured Lindell that council's position would be one that is alert to Terrace Park's needs, and that it would plan accordingly and reasonably.

Corporation Limits

Lindell then presented, as Village Engineer, copies of a description of village corporation limits. This is a subject long under review, and is not resolved. Lindell noted that courthouse records refer to certain old residences as defining the western edge of the village, but no exact distances are recorded. From his research, Lindell believes the correct western border is one that extends 500 feet further west on Wooster Pike than the one now marked. There is also uncertainty regarding the southern boundary, which fluctuates with the meanderings of the river. Thus, Lindell requested and council approved an engineer's survey of exact boundary lines which will clarify once and for all the corporation limits of Terrace Park; any line running through the river will be delineated by surveyor marks. Solicitor Robert Leming pointed out that such an accurate definition is needed before the village can make application to become its own township.

Other Action

- Treasurer Al Roberts asked all residents to give their Terrace Park Address when filing personal property taxes and applying for driver licenses so that the village receives its due financial credit.

- Finance Chairman Dick Bowman reported council spent $1000 less in this year's first quarter than in first three months of '74.

- First reading ordinance approval was given to enter into co-operation with county commissioners on general repair of the Elm Road railroad bridge. Council also authorized Lindell to prepare plans and specifications for submission to the commissioners. The county will allocate $15,000 from TP's gasoline tax fund for this repair work.

- Dick Griffith reported that the new police cruiser is in service. Griffith hopes to present a recommendation for remodeling the Fire House at council's May meeting. Meanwhile, his Safety Committee is considering the possibility of using the chassis of the pumper to be retired in '76 as the front half of a large dump truck for the village, and selling only the rear pumper end. It seemed to be the general consensus that most communities would not be interested in purchase of only half of a used piece of firefighting equipment, but the Safety Committee plans to check out the idea, weighing financial advantages and/or disadvantages.

- Reviewed was the trash disposal ordinance prepared by the Rules and Law Committee. This is proving a knotty problem for council to settle. Action was again deferred pending better clarification of what types of trash will be accepted at the landfill, a decision complicated by the village no longer burying or burning certain items. The question arose as to what should be done when a large structure such as a porch or shed is razed, or there is a large amount of plaster and metal objects to be disposed. One member noted that in the case of demolition, a wrecking permit is required. Another question posed: what constitutes "fill"? Solicitor Leming was asked to procure copies of the City of Cincinnati's and Indian Hill's trash and demolition ordinances in the hope they will offer better guidance for Terrace Park law. Meanwhile, residents are reminded that the landfill is open on Saturdays from 2 - 5 p.m. for disposal of non-decomposable items; there is a sliding fee schedule for this service. Decomposable trash may be placed at the curb for collection by the village crew IF it is arranged in a manageable, ordered manner.

- Pat Henley reported that 16 new trees have been planted in the community this past month, and that her Building and Grounds Committee hopes to add eight more. This group is working out a plan with the School Board for mowing and general summer beautification of the playfield.

- Referral of two concerns was made to the Planning and Zoning Commission for study and action: the riding and boarding of horses in the village, and the parking of recreational vehicles. This commission is in the process of reviewing the village's total zoning ordinances, with an eye toward updating and relevancy.

Council will meet May 13 when a preliminary review of the 1976 budget will be presented.

Arbor Day At Terrace Park School

In top photo are Garden Club member Mrs. Pauline Olson and some of the members of the third grade around their Flowering Crabapple tree.

In bottom photo, are Garden Club members Mrs. Diana Durden and members of the first grade plant a Sweet Gum tree in front of the school. Mr. Conrad, the custodian, is assisting.

The students of the Terrace Park Grade School celebrated Arbor Day April by planting five young trees on the school grounds - one tree for each of the five grades.

The first and fourth grades each planted a Sweet Gum near their classrooms in front of the school. The second grade put in a five Dogwood in the center of this area.

The third and fifth grades were flowering Crabapples planted in the back of the school in the courtyard. This planting is a continuation of the School's Garden Club's joint efforts for making this an attractive area for outdoor teaching.

The trees were donated by the Terrace Park Garden Club from money derived from the Terrace Park Christmas House Tour.

Three members of the Garden Club were present at the plantings and talked to the children about Arbor Day and the importance of planting trees: Mrs. Diana Durden, Mrs. Pauline Olson and Mrs. Jane Peterson.

148 Names Cut From Voter Roll . . . So Reregister

Ten per cent of Terrace Park's voters will be ineligible this year unless they reregister, according to the Hamilton County Board of Elections.

Purging the registration lists of the inactive, the board announced that 148 names had been dropped from the rolls. Terrace Park voting strength had been 1472. It is now 1324.

Under Ohio law, each year registration lists are purged of the names of those who have not voted the previous two years.

Countywide, 58,910 names were dropped, 32,348 in Cincinnati and 26,562 in the suburbs and townships.

Collecting Things, Or How To Be Carried Away

By Alec Davidson

Combes, said Dr. Watson, what are you doing wandering around at 5 in the morning playing that squeaky violin?

I'm waiting for the garbage truck.

Fine. Make sure that fiddle's on it . . . say, aren't you a little early — the garbage truck usually doesn't rumble and clang through here until dawn.

Exactly, Watson, How is it that garbage trucks appear simultaneously throughout the city just before dawn? A mirage? Some magic quality about Cincinnati?

Go back to bed and dream about it, Combes. Let your subconscious work on the problem. If that doesn't help, you can always call up the council.

There is no more city council. They've all run for some other office. One day soon, Cincinnati will come to a halt. Nobody's in charge.

Who cares who's in charge. Life will go on as usual for those of us who live high atop Mt. Adams.

High atop Mt. Adams? Low atop Mt. Adams, you should say, Watson. We're being diminished by a freeway.

You certainly are dispirited, Hairlock. What's the matter?

The unvarying cause -- an inquiry from one of those upward mobile management types in Terrace Park. This thwarted MBA has, as he puts it, a relevant concern. He wants us to determine why habitations with three or fewer occupants put out more refuse containers than appear at the berms of dwellings inhabited by four or more adults, children, and/or both. Doesn't anyone out there speak English?

That's corporation English as taught in business schools and as captured for all time by word-processing departments. He's communicating with you, not talking to you.

The Republic is in danger, Watson. Imagine turning a majestic Douglas fir into paper just to have that abysmal language written on it. Hark! what noise by yonder window enters?

Well, it's either the garbage truck or another row of houses slipping into the freeway ditch.

By sound deduction, it's the garbage truck. Just listen to the merry work- persons as they toss and turn the garbage cans around. Garbage truck -- the very words are reassuring. Far more so than Refuse Transporter as they say in Terrace Park.

Steady, Combes, don't get carried away. Or transported. What are you going to say in Terrace Park to that MBA's question? What does MBA stand for, by the way?

Most MBA's will stand for anything. The initials mean either Mumble, Botch, and Allocate, or Mingle, Booze, and Accelerate -- I forget which.

Your answer to his question, Combes.

The question, yes, the question. Elementary, my dear Watson. The number of people inside a house has nothing to do with the number of garbage cans outside. More outside one house than another could mean no more than missing last week's pickup. Maybe it's because of a helpful husband. If full cans are too heavy for a wife to take out, a thoughtful partner will fill twice as many half as full. Some men are exceedingly generous that way, you know. I'll put all this in my report to the MBA. I'll make the report more palatable to him by dropping in a few phrases like the 'invisible hand of self-interest' -- that's the generous husband -- and GNP or two.

GNP? Garbage not packed.

Aren't you going to give him any advice? You usually do.

Oh yes. I'll wrap the whole thing up by suggesting he either get married or invest in a compacter.

Village Bulletin Board

Wanted: Typist For TP Phone Book
 The Terrace Park Fire Department and Life Squad need typists for telephone directory. Here's your opportunity to serve a vital community need.

Garden Club Meets May 13

The Terrace Park Garden Club will meet Tuesday, May 13 in the Community House at 12:30. Ellis Rawnsley will speak about "All You Wanted To Know About Trees and Gardens but Were Afraid To Ask."

Garage Sale Corner Time

Don't pitch those unwanted items discovered during spring cleaning. Instead, call Ann Gilchrist or Edna Stites who are again heading the Garage Sale Corner at the Labor Day Festival. Ann will even store donations. Proceeds, of course, will benefit the village recreation activities. All items except clothing gratefully accepted. Ann can be reached at 831-9109 and Edna at 831-1944.

Nature Walks Slated

The Wilderness Preserve Committee has planned three Nature Walks for those interested in learning more about the Birds and Flora of the Terrace Park river area.

The first Bird Walk, led by Louise Halley and Jan Watkins, will be held at 9:30 a.m. on Saturday, April 26th. Meet at the parking lot of the Wilderness Preserve, just off Ford Road, and bring binoculars, if you have them.

The following day, Sunday, April 27th at 2 p.m., a similar Bird Walk will start from the same area.

A Wildflower Walk, led by Diana Durden, will be held on Saturday May 24th at 1 p.m. Meet at the parking lot of the Wilderness Preserve and bring a hand lens, if you have one.

A Field Guide to the Birds and a Field Guide to Wildflowers would also be valuable to those who can bring them on the walks.

LETTERS

To the Editor:

Jill Barnes' recent letter in the Village Views should have started many of us thinking about how Terrace Park will observe and celebrate our country's bicentennial anniversary.

It has been suggested that we can be most effective by doing something FOR our community.

What would you like to do? How would you like to celebrate?

With some ideas to begin working with, it should not only be easier to assemble a committee, but easier for the committee to put together a meaningful and memorable celebration.

Let's not sit back waiting for someone else to get things going: if you have an idea, let's hear it. If you would like to be a member of the committee, let's hear from you.

Call me, drop me a line, ring the bell -- but get in touch!

To The Editor:
 The Board of the St. Thomas Nursery School would like to thank Ev Peery for the excellent First Aid Course she taught to the nursery school mothers.

The course was held two mornings and covered many aspects of emergency care. The thoroughness of the course showed how much time and effort Ev had put into its preparation.

All of the mothers attending felt much more able to handle an emergency after the course.

It is people like Ev (who donate so freely of their time, talent, and knowledge) who truly enrich the life of our community.

Sincerely,
 Mary Maxon
 Secretary St. Thomas Nursery School Board

Please Help!
 To the members of Terrace Park, I would like to say a few words.

The litter here in our community is really getting bad. You and I both know we don't like all of the dirty litter here, so please pitch in. We like a clean place to live so help and clean up.

Thanks

Ohio Trees Booklet Available

A new booklet about trees in the Buckeye State has been published by the Ohio Department of Natural Resources and is now available to the public. The publication, entitled "Ohio's Trees," describes a total of 58 trees.

The brochure contains a recommended reading list for those wanting detailed tree identification guides or other information on trees.

The text includes the common name and the scientific name for each tree. It mentions the areas where the trees grow, some of the historical background and other interesting information. Several striking color photographs, depicting tree leaves, fruit and flowers, complement the descriptive material.

"The booklet is designed to foster an appreciation of the role trees play in the environment," said Natural Resources Director Robert W. Tester. "It is intended to be used in developing a familiarity with the more common trees found in Ohio."

A nominal fee of 50 cents a copy will be charged to cover the cost of printing and distribution. Requests for the booklet along with a check or money order payable to the Ohio Department of Natural Resources should be mailed to the Publications Center, Ohio Department of Natural Resources, Fountain Square, Columbus 43224.

Life Squad SOS
Are you ~~sure~~ our Life Squad may go out of service? The lack of volunteers is THAT critical.
It would be sad indeed if residents could no longer count on the help offered by this dedicated corps in emergency situations.
Contact Bob Terwilleger at 831-0147 to volunteer some day or evening time.
