It Was A Nice 200th Birthday Party We Had

The big day has come and gone and we all enjoyed it. What more is there to say? Here are some photos we made that day. They aren't of the winners, necessarily, but are just intended to capture the spirit of the day. Details of who won what are on page 2.

At top, the parade-leading drill team; clock-wise around the page: the one of many super fire plugs; a circus parader's fancy giraffe; race-caller Ferguson and steeds; an old-timer out at home in a run-down; the permanent plaque.

Bicentennial Contest Winners

Marie Gerwin, chairperson of the Terrace Park Bicentennial celebration committee, announced the winners of various events as follows:
CIRCUS COSTUMES: age 7 and under, Lisa Bryan, Katie Gay; ages 8 through 12, Quay Doench, Mark Hudson and Paul Johnson, Scott Morrison and friends, Shawn Hudson; ages 13 through 18, Lora Gilchrist, Todd Channer.

THE BALL GAME was won,

of course, by the old-timers, 4-2.

PEANUT RACE: age 6 and under, Amy Cardon, Michael Roberts, Robin Deckard; ages 7-9, Ricky Bryan, Holly Pendl, Pam Hayes; ages 10-12, Monica Frei, Phoebe Miller, Scott Morrison.

THREE-LEGGED RACE: Barry Ramsdell and daughter Donna won first prize; third were John Brizendine and son Todd. Second-place finishers remain uncertain.

WHEELBARROW RACE: Barry and Marie Ramsdell first, Dick and Lynn Mileham second, Don and Linda Hughes third.

FROG JUMPING: The Al Nelson family won "largest frog" (15 and 3/4 inches) as well as the jumping contest. Smallest frog award went to the Lou Ott family: the Jim Boudrie family won best-dressed frog award.

FIREPLUG: The basset hound at the corner of Miami and Amherst was judged the best "all around" hydrant-painting job. It was done by Gary Bassett and Scott Morrison. The award for "beauty, style and grace" went to Judy and Dennis Elliott's soldier with backpack, at Miami and Marietta. The Reds ballplayer-fireplug at Lexington Circle, by the Tritsch children, was judged best for humor and originality.

LOGO CONTEST: From 200 entries, the judges selected Brinke Guthrie's to be best. Runnerup awards to Betsy Langner, Sam Gundlach, Mrs. Norval Julnes, Larry Deckard, Quay Doench, David Schwinn, and Barbara Rieder.

QUILT: won by Mrs. Betty Davis.

FRAMED SKETCH: won by Mrs. Ann Gilchrist.

BAKE OFF: Bar cookies by Mrs. John Siegfried; cherry pie by Mrs. Robert Morrison; chocolate cake by Mrs. John Eberhard; miscellaneous cake by Mrs. Steve Strider; miscellaneous pie by Mrs. Robert Whittaker; drop cookies by Mrs. Ken Norvell.

Council Adopts $221,650 Budget

Terrace Park's 1977 budget was adopted in tentative form at the June meeting, following a 25-minute hearing.

The budget — which won't be formalized until year's end — calls for spending totaling $221,650, five per cent more than this year's expected total.

Finance Chairman Dick Bowman said at the hearing he expects revenue to be sufficient to meet the budgeted spending.

During the regular council session in June, Planning, Zoning, Rules and Law Chairman Don Frei said he expects a suit to be filed soon against the village by BBS Co.

Fire Siren Winded

Terrace Park's 30-year-old fire siren atop the Community House was the only casualty of the late-June tornado scare.

Two long series of warning blasts were too much for the old siren.

Now its motor is being rewound at a cost of $600 — which is about what the siren cost when it was first installed.
