

Village Waits on State To Untangle Cannabis Legalization Issues

Submitted by Sue Porter

Though the November passage of Issue 2 has made it legal in Ohio for adults 21 and older to possess and grow a specified amount of recreational marijuana, don't expect a cannabis enterprise to pop-up in Terrace Park anytime soon.

Village Council approved a moratorium Dec. 12 that defers local action on commercial cannabis dispensaries, cultivation and processing operations for 365 days. As in 2016 when council placed a moratorium on its response to medical marijuana, the deferral allows state officials to address key business aspects and gives local authorities time to review and recommend a response that ensures residents' interests are protected.

OTHER COUNCIL ACTION:

- Solicitor Jeff Forbes' contract was renewed with a small rate increase and praise from council;
- The 2023 appropriations budget was revised to shift about $13,000 from street main-

Dear Neighbors,

Hard to believe it's time for another year to begin, but 2023 is in the rear-view mirror, the holidays are over, and it's onward into another year here in the little village by the river. We often think of January and February in Ohio as grey and seemingly endless, but it's actually a beautiful, quiet time to enjoy Kroger Field, Miami Grove, the bike trail, and the Little Miami River.

If you and your family haven't been to Miami Grove lately, make January the month you check it out! This wilderness preserve is a private, forest-restoration area that was purchased by the village in the 1960s and is maintained through our village taxes. It's not a park, but instead a private reserve where the decades-long process of forest restoration is taking place naturally. It's a great place to enjoy the beauty of the river and the woods. Put on a hat and gloves, leash up the dog and take your family for a stroll.

If you drive you can get a free parking permit from the village office on Elm before you go, and a recent Eagle Scout project has some great looking new trail markers down there to point the way. And remember- you can't get lost at Miami Grove because all trails lead back to the parking lot. If you keep walking you will end up back where you started.

I hope it is a great start to the new year for you and your family here in Terrace Park. We have a lot to look forward to as we start another round of vacations, lacrosse, school pictures, flower sales, prom, graduation, swim team, Labor Day, trick-or-treating, holidays, friends and fun. And you know you can read about it all, plus the latest on lemonade stands and "donkeys on the loose", here in your Village Views. Until next month I remain,

Your Editor,
Steve Early

End of an Era

The last day of 2023 also marked the final day of business for Terrace Park Auto Service, which has been a fixture at the corner of Wooster Pike and Given Road in Terrace Park for the past sixty years. It was built by current owner Bill Krummert's father, Bill Sr. in 1963 and has been doing business in the village ever since. It was the last station around to offer full-service on tank fill-up, and with it goes the end of the service station era for our village. At one time there were three service stations at the Wooster/Given/Indian Hill Road intersection. The new owners plan to renovate the space into a convenience store and will still sell gas.

Holiday Home Decorating Contest Lights up TP

The annual TP Holiday Home Decorating Contest looked a little different this year as it took place during Luminaria/Lighting of the Green on December 3rd, which is a little earlier than usual. We also changed things up by having the residents of our village cast votes for the winners, which was a change from the usual judges, but the results were as merry and bright as ever.

After the votes were tallied, the three homes that took the most votes were The Heis Family at 307 Oxford Avenue, the Wise Family at 616 Marietta Avenue, and the Satterwhite Family at 733

Elm Avenue. From inflatables to flashing lights and blow molds, these homes decked the halls and it paid off. The contest sponsor, Steve Early with Sibcy Cline Realtors, made a $100 donation to a charity of the winner's choice.

Law & Order

Submitted by Eric Schmidt
On 11/26, an officer was dispatched to Marietta Avenue for a welfare check on a TP resident. Upon arrival, the Officer could see the individual sitting at the kitchen table listening to Christmas music very loudly. The Officer then contacted the complainant and advised them that all was well. (Home alone on a Sunday night blasting Mariah Carey? I'd argue they were doing VERY well!)

On 11/26, at 1:30am, an officer was conducting a check on Stumps Lane and found an occupied vehicle parked near the TP rec building. Two juveniles were in the vehicle stating they were just hanging out. (If there was an emoji option here, I'd use the "00 shifty eyes").

Obituary

Grettchen (Margaret) Collins McGoff (nee Crane) was born August 10, 1956, and passed away peacefully at her Cincinnati home surrounded by family on November 21, 2023, at the age of 67.
Grettchen is survived by her significant other, Sam Logan, her former spouse, Pat McGoff, and their three children, Chris, Maeve, and Rory. Gretchen was a long time village resident and she and Pat raised their children in several different Terrace Park homes including Elm Avenue, Stanton Avenue, and along the river on Michigan Drive.
Grettchen was known as Gretch, Grep, Greppie, Lippy, Grammy Greppie, Gretchie, a cousin, a daughter, a sister, an aunt, a best friend but most importantly, Mom. Whether it was school, daily life, or sports, Grettchen was her children's biggest fan. From watching Rory design, Maeve create, and Chris build, she always supported their goals and visions.

The saying "the heart is in the kitchen" is true; Grettchen was a great cook and her recipe for life was laughter. Whether she was hosting a small porch/garage gathering, Easter at Sam's, a big McGoff Christmas, or a Crane Thanksgiving, her guests knew they would get a good meal and free entertainment. It didn't matter if her joke had a punchline or if the story finished, her contagious laugh had the entire room laughing before anyone knew why they were laughing.
Although she enjoyed planting them, she asked that in place of flowers to please not litter, keep nature beautiful, and donate to the Breast Cancer Research Foundation. She wished that everyone will continue the laughs and good times at her End-of-Life celebration which will be held in the spring of 2024, details to come.

Walking in a Winter Wonderland

You may have noticed a group of festive friends on foot moving along the streets of Terrace Park this past December. No, it wasn't Santa's elves making a break for it, this was a walking group made up of TP neighbors. Every December they put in some festive cardio in the village. This year they stopped at the post office for some fun photos and then were led "through the streets of town, right to the traffic cop- and they only paused a moment when they heard him holler- Stop!"

Holiday Thanks from Kindervelt

Submitted by Ali Strohm

Thanks to everyone for lighting up Terrace Park on Sunday, December 3rd for Luminaria and Lighting of the Green! We kicked off the holiday festivities with music from School of Rock, horse and carriage rides, luminaries, treats, Santa visits, the Boy Scout Toy Drive, and the Holiday Home Lighting Contest. Mayor Tom Tepe and Reverend Darren Elin led the Lighting of the Green ceremony, and the Hamey family lit the tree.

These events not only make TP magical, but they also serve as community-wide fundraisers to support Kindervelt, an all-volunteer organization dedicated to raising funds for Cincinnati Children's Hospital Medical Center. Special thanks to the Terrace Park Police Department, Fire Department and Maintenance Department, St. Thomas Episcopal Church, School of Rock, the Boy Scouts and our Kindervelt committees.

We greatly appreciate our generous corporate sponsor for Lighting of the Green, 22R Design Build, and our annual Kindervelt 76 sponsors, The Birch, Equitta Advisors, Reed & Roe, Strong Girl Sports, and Whirlybird Granola. Thank you as well to our family sponsors this year.

The Hamey Family threw the switch to light the village tree and kick off the holiday season in Terrace Park.

Terrace Park Woman's Club Presents "Living With Landslides"

Submitted by Stef Jones

Did you know that the Cincinnati region is one of the top landslide hazard areas in the United States? On Wednesday, March 6, 2024, join your friends and neighbors for a fun and factual screening of "Living with Landslides". Laure Quinlivan, former WCPO investigative reporter and Cincinnati city council member, made this documentary film to bring landslide awareness to our community and surrounding neighborhoods. The project took her to many regions around greater Cincinnati from Mt. Adams, along Columbia Parkway, to Mt. Washington, and Milford. After the viewing of this enlightening documentary, Laure and Executive Director of the Hillside Trust, Eric Russo will both be on hand to answer any questions.

This event is free and open to the entire community. We encourage you to bring interested friends as well. It will take place at the Terrace Park Elementary School with doors opening at 6:30pm for light refreshments and the program starting at 7:00pm. TPWC is proud to make this presentation available to Terrace Park and our neighboring communities and we hope that you will make an effort to become more informed about the place we call home.

News from the Terrace Park Garden Club

Submitted by Nancy Aubke

In early December, Terrace Park Garden Club members joined together for a holiday luncheon and some joyful carol singing. Guests included two representatives from Inter Parish Ministry who gratefully accepted the club's gifts of personal care items and over 30 beautiful wreaths and trees which were lovingly decorated by club members. IPM will distribute them to local families who might not have other holiday ornaments. Creative design prizes went to Sue Dolan, Vivian Krueger, and Tina Hesser for trees and Mary Jensen, Amy Evans, and Ogle Annett for wreaths.

At the January meeting, a virtual tour of members' summer gardens was presented. Wow! What an inspiration for anyone considering the coming Spring planting season. Lots of great ideas were shared to re-new garden beds, flower boxes and gorgeous containers.

Now is the time to select beautiful annuals for YOUR garden. Please see the Terrace Park Garden Club Spring Flower Sale order form in this issue of the Village Views. It contains a list of the magnificent plants available, all grown by Laura at The Olde Garden Shack in Batesville, IN. For those who return the form by March 1, the garden club will deliver your plants on May 2 and 3. Plants will also be available for sale on the Village Green on Saturday, May 4.

Please join the garden club on Tuesday, February 6 at 7 PM

Congratulations to the 3rd and 4th grade Mariemont Youth Football team who completed their first undefeated season in over 15 years! The Warriors finished the season with a perfect 7-0 record, outscoring their opponents 162-6.

tenance to salaries. Finance Chair Jeff LeMay praised Administrator Jerry Hayhow, Chief Fiscal Officer Katie Lyons, EMS Chief John Maggard and Fire Chief Steve Dronsfield for their foresight 17 months ago when they created a budget with more than 200 cost centers that has required rare revision. He also praised them for “sticking to the budget.”

- The 2024 final appropriations budget was recertified for oversight by Hamilton County; and

- Council members Lauren Ingebritson and LeMay were appointed to one-year terms on the Volunteer Firefighters’ Dependents Fund Board to represent local interests in the event of death or disability in the line of duty.

MAYOR’S REPORT:

- Tom Tepe described 2023 as a year village officials successfully addressed major issues ranging from septic system approval to water line extension, a levy renewal, the purchase of a new fire truck and improvements to buildings and grounds. “We did it all with an eye toward the bottom line without sacrificing safety and the beliefs that make us who we are as a community,” he said.

- Mayor Tepe thanked each of the village’s more than 100 paid staff and unpaid volunteers for their service with a reading of their names. He does this annually to enter their names into the official record, bring attention to the many individuals required to conduct village business, and publicly recognize those whom residents see and the majority who work in obscurity. “The budget would swell by about a million dollars or more if we didn’t have these dedicated volunteers,” he said. “We do not have an earnings tax and we can thank these people for that.”

He praised the local Kindervelt chapter for organizing the holiday tree lighting festivities on the village green and thanked the sponsors and musicians, Santa Claus and village employees who made it special for Terrace Park children.

OTHER REPORTS:

- Administrator Hayhow said EMS training will be conducted by Cincinnati State and that he has terminated the village’s contract with Scarlet Oaks Vocational School; the village ordinance book is being updated with the addition of state and village laws that have been enacted since 2016; loose leaf pickup has ended but the village crew will pick up bagged leaves; and the new urban forestry service is becoming familiar with the tree inventory and has submitted an application for Tree City USA recognition.

- Fire Chief Dronsfield praised Police Officer Mitchell Powers, who detected an electrical fire at The Birch while making early morning rounds Nov. 28. “The fire would have been much worse without his quick action,” said Dronsfield, who thanked Terrace Park’s volunteer firefighters and crews from Milford, Mariemont and Anderson Township for extinguishing the fire. He also reported receipt of a $14,000 grant from the Bureau of Workers Compensation for fireproof helmets, jackets, pants and boots that will be used by eight new recruits and other volunteers whose turnout gear needs to be retired.

- EMS Chief John Maggard welcomed a Milford High School student, who introduced herself to village council, into the new class of six recruits that begins Jan. 23. He has applied for a state grant to fund all or a portion of the training.

- Rules and Law Chair Judith Lehman said she’ll convene a committee meeting to discuss ways to improve communication of official business. Bulletin boards are currently used throughout the village to post, for example, notifications of upcoming meetings, proposed ordinances and changes to the village code. Lehman thinks electronic means should also be considered. “When we are passing or discussing important things, we want to make sure people know what is happening,” she said. “So it is important to get the word out.”

practic as a business have been tremendous partners from the first year of FC Cincinnati to present day. He is an invaluable member of our team. We are lucky to have him.” Dr. Matthew Busam, M.D. - Chief Medical Officer

“Keith has served our players with high quality chiropractic care since the inception of FC Cincinnati in 2016. He quickly earned the respect of our players to become a well-regarded member of our medical staff through his expertise and diligent care. Even through turbulent times of player and staff turnover, Keith continued to be sought after by all for his ability and friendly demeanor.” Aaron Powell – Director of Athletic Training Services

“Keith is an important piece to FCC’s sports medicine puzzle. He was an integral part in helping our athletes stay healthy during the long season where we saw success in raising the Supporters’ Shield. His knowledge and skill set are tremendous and combined with his excitement for FCC he became a big part of our staff in 2023.” Patrick Tanner – First Team Head Athletic Trainer

The organizations chosen by this year’s winning families include Pro Bono Partnership of Ohio, which provides free legal services for non-profit groups in the Cincinnati area (and was founded by TP resident Breck Weigel), The Joe Burrow Foundation/ Queen City Charities, and 1N5, who’s mission is to prevent suicide by erasing the stigma of mental illness and promoting optimal mental wellness.

76 ballots were cast and 25 different homes received votes, so while you’re out looking at lights

this month, be sure you also see the McGuire’s incredible “Charlie Brown Christmas” at 611 Myrtle, the Roe’s holiday home at 311 Harvard, and the Chisom’s winter wonderland at 220 Harvard. All three received several votes as well.

Terrace Park is a wonderful place this time of year and it was great to see so many friends and neighbors, both old and new, at the Village Green. Thank you to Kindervelt for hosting such a great evening and to everyone who got the lights up in time and stopped by to vote!

Holiday Fun at St. Thomas Nursery School

Submitted by Angela Jolley

If you heard “ho-ho-ho” Christmas carols being sung, and lots of children’s laughter coming from the St. Thomas Nursery School on Saturday, you were hearing the sounds of STNS’ annual “Cookies with Santa” event. The children visited with Santa, decorated cookies, and made Christmas tree ornaments and reindeer food all while enjoying lots of delicious holiday treats. Fun was had by all! St. Thomas Nursery School provides quality classroom experiences for children ages 2-6 at St. Thomas Episcopal Church on Miami Avenue. Great neighborhood. Even better neighbors.

Mom is enjoying the highest quality of life possible in a secure, fun, and life-enriching community. The staff has been very helpful and by our side through her journey with dementia. She is surrounded by compassionate team members who really care about her. They have created an intimate, person-centered memory care neighborhood.

Marjorie P. Lee earned U.S. News and World Report’s highest possible achievement, a ‘High Performing’ rating. It’s great to see her enjoying time with new friends, bonding over music, art, and food. We’re all so happy with her new home. And it’s nice to know that her future is secure. Even if she outlives her savings or her healthcare needs change, she will always have a home here.*

Schedule a tour today of our Kirby and Luther Memory Care neighborhoods by contacting Jenn Schlotbom at 513.533.5000 or by email at jschlotbom@erslife.org.
