

Miami Grove Gazebo To Honor Memory Of Kristin Crowley

Submitted by Sue Porter

Kristin Crowley enjoyed Miami Grove's natural beauty with family, friends and her yellow lab, Zami. And now in her memory, a gazebo will be constructed at the nature preserve.

After hearing from her husband Shawn, whose donation will finance the project, Terrace Park Village Council voted March 19 to permit the Ohio River Foundation to oversee construction of the shelter. The village will maintain the structure in perpetuity.

Council also approved a three percent payroll increase, which Administrator Jerry Hayhow will award at his discretion among village employees, and a resolution asking the Hamilton County auditor to certify an additional 2.45 mill tax increase for residents to consider on the Nov. 4 ballot.

Though there is no state law requiring municipalities to have six months of operating funds in reserve, it is a recommended best practice. The finance committee's revenue and spending forecast shows the village is fiscally sound but will drop below the threshold in late 2025 or 2026. Councilmember Jeff LeMay said it has been 12 years since the village has placed a tax increase on the ballot.

Approval also was given the appointment of two emergency medical services technicians. Mayor Tom Tepe then administered the oath of service to Christine Kullgren, who is a dispatch call-taker for the city of Cincinnati, and Rashawn Manigan, a paramedic who works full-time in the Dayton area.

Administrator Hayhow said Duke Energy's contractor, RLA Utilities, has begun phase one of the replacement of aging steel pipelines with plastic pipes. The project is expected to take three years and affect 95 percent of local homes, starting with Harvard Avenue residences. Updates and advisories will be available on the village website www.terracepark.org and sent through the CodeRED system, a free online service that provides registered residents with timely announcements and updates on official business. Sign-up instructions are available on the website or by texting "terracepark" to 99411 with a smartphone.

In a recent advisory, residents were asked to keep in mind that "items such as invisible fences and irrigation systems that were installed on the village right of way are susceptible to damage. The contractor is not responsible for damage to installation on the village/utility right of way. Questions, please contact Duke at 513-287-2130. If you have any questions about the village right of way on your street please call the village office."

Hayhow added that Katie Lyons, village clerk, has created a quick guide to help answer right of way questions. He suggested that residents who are planning improvements such as driveway repair in the right of way may want to factor the pipeline project into their timeline.

On other topics, Hayhow said:

- He has researched asphalt rejuvenation products and identified one with pliable properties that discourage cracking. It will be applied to Princeton, Poplar, Franklin, Douglas and portions of Stanton Avenue.

- Final plans for the Elm Avenue water line extension are scheduled for approval by the Ohio EPA in May; bidding will begin in June; a contract will be awarded in August; and construc-

Dear Neighbors,

The daffodils are blooming, Red's Opening Day is kicking off a new baseball season, and a much needed week off from school has arrived. All of it can mean just one thing; spring is here to stay in Terrace Park! While the first official day of the new season came on March 20th, April will be the month of longer, warmer days, and the return of the green canopy that shades our little village all summer.

As always, April is a busy month in Terrace Park with the annual Easter Egg Hunt coming. Next month a new great village event making its debut this year; the scavenger hunt and art show on the Green. This joint venture between the TP Historical Society and Kindervelt is one you won't want to miss. We've also got photos from the annual hootenanny Hoe Down, and a recap of all the goings-on at the TP Woman's Club. You can read about all of that and more in this month's issue.

Enjoy the warmer days with lacrosse at Drackett, softball at Stanton Field, and pickup games on the Village Green. Seems like we've all got spring fever after the brutal February that rolled over us, and the Village Views will be here to cover all the wild ways your neighbors are thawing out this season. So until next month I remain,

Your Editor,

Steve Early

Girls Just Want To Have Fun

Submitted by Janet Sarran

The Terrace Park Woman's Club holds its monthly meetings on the third Monday of the month at the Terrace Park Community Center from 12:30pm - 2:30pm. You can stop by for some lively conversation, a snack or two to enjoy, and the opportunity to expand your mind and learn about others. And to top it all off, you can hear our historian reading the minutes from our meetings held over 100 years ago. Amazing!

2025 started off with a talented guest speaker. Lucinda Barnes, sister to our member Suzie Gray, who educated us on Cincinnati Women in the Arts. One woman she featured was Mary Emery who was the founder of Mariemont as well as a huge philanthropist in Cincinnati. We were surprised to learn how much she gave to this city! Lucinda could have entertained us with stories of her own life as well. Lucinda is a leader in Modern and Contemporary Art and respected throughout the world.

Our annual theme, "Queen of Thrones", was exemplified in our next two meetings. We learned about biblical and inspirational female leaders in Becky Todd's presentation, "God Save the Queens". And our most recent meeting highlighted an amazing woman, Mary Louise McLaughlin. Born in 1847, she was a pioneer in ceramic painting and pottery. Her biggest rival was another famous potter, Maria Longworth Nichols Storer, founder of Rookwood Pottery. Both women helped originate the art pottery movement in the United States. Sandy Ader, our club president, entertained us with slides and her thoughtful presentation of Queens of the Queen City.

Dolly Parton, Queen of Country, will be featured at our next meeting on April 21st. We welcome those women who want to stop by and experience the fun times we have. If you're interested, call Sandy Ader at 513-831-8953. We'd love to see you!

The Bach Ensemble at St. Thomas Chorale Presents an Evening of Choral Masterworks

Submitted by Carlton Monroe

The Bach Ensemble Chorale will present a concert of sacred choral masterpieces spanning four centuries on Sunday, April 6, 2025, at 5:00 p.m. at St. Thomas Episcopal Church.

The program features works from the Renaissance to the 20th century, showcasing the ensemble's versatility and technical precision. Opening with William Byrd's jubilant "Sing Joyfully," the concert continues with Byrd's contemplative "Mass for Four Voices," one of the finest examples of Renaissance polyphony.

The second half begins with J.S. Bach's motet "Fürchte dich nicht" (Fear Not), BWV 228, a work of profound spiritual depth. Johannes Brahms' "Schaffe in mir, Gott, ein rein Herz" (Create in me a clean heart, O God) follows, demonstrating the composer's masterful command of harmony. The program concludes with Benjamin Britten's "Hymn to St. Cecilia," his settings of W.H. Auden's poetry celebrating the patron saint of music.

"These composers have always had a special meaning to me, and it is a thrill to perform these works with the incredible musicians of the Bach Ensemble," says Carlton Monroe, Artistic Director of the Bach Ensemble Chorale. "This program hearkens back to a conducting recital I gave almost 25 years ago."

The concert will be held at St. Thomas Episcopal Church, 100 Miami Avenue, Terrace Park, Ohio. Tickets are available at www.bachensemble.org. General admission is $30, with reserved seating available for $40 and student tickets for $10.

The Bach Ensemble at St. Thomas enriches and inspires the musical life of the Cincinnati area through the performance of the music of J. S. Bach, his contemporaries, and musical heirs.

The BEST serves as ensemble-in-residence at St. Thomas Episcopal Church where it leads the monthly Bach Vespers, performing the cantatas of J. S. Bach in the context for which they are written. The ensemble's musicians are some of the finest in the Congratulations to this group of 6th grade boys on another amazing basketball season. This team battled through a tough regular season schedule but showed it was prepared for a March tournament run, winning the championship! With the win, it extends their streak to 3 consecutive tournament championships in as many years and will finish with an overall combined record of 53-15. Congratulations on an incredible 3 years of basketball at TPE!!

Barbara Norris,
resident since 2023,
with her grateful
brother and cousin

It's all right here if she needs it.

Watching our beloved Barbara settle into life at Marjorie P. Lee has been an incredible relief. We want her to have more than great memory care—she deserves to have a home where she feels safe, comfortable, and engaged for years to come.

Here, she has it all—a secure environment, compassionate caregivers, and a warm community where she's treated with dignity and respect. She enjoys chef-prepared meals, meaningful activities, and new friendships. We have peace of mind knowing that as her care needs change, she can stay at Marjorie P. Lee. We're so glad they offer the services she will need in the future—all right here under one roof.
