

Hearing Set On 'Keg Law'

Village council plans to hold a public hearing at 7 p.m. April 14, before the regular council meeting, before taking final action on a so-called "keg law" for the community. The ordinance would fix adult responsibility for drinking by minors.

Action was deferred until April to give ample time for public opinion to develop, and to permit late revision of what Village Solicitor Bob Malloy said already was the best measure of its kind.

In announcing plans for hearing, Councilman Tim Gleeson, head of the law committee, issued this statement:

"The ordinance to 'Control Unauthorized Consumption of Beer and Intoxicating Liquor by Minors while on Private Property' that I introduced at the December meeting states as follows. First, that:

"No person shall knowingly permit any minor who is not their child or ward, to consume any beer or intoxicating liquor while minor is on real property owned, occupied or otherwise under such person's control, unless that minor is accompanied by his or her parent or guardian who has consented to such consumption of alcohol."

"The ordinance also states that a violation exists if the person or persons in control of residential real property are not on the property and all the following occur: first, the 'persons in control of residential property depart from the municipality and leave the premises in control of a minor for a period of 24 hours or more.' Secondly, that more than four minors, not members of the household, congregate on the premises and one or more of them consumes beer or intoxicating liquor while on the premises. Finally, that persons in control of such property 'fail to provide authority to the Village Police Department to enter upon the property to investigate loud noises or other disturbances emanating therefrom.'

"I am offering this description to correct any possible misunderstandings of the ordinance."

Coping With Deer Hazard

With deer posing an increasing hazard, Terrace Park police cars have been equipped with ultrasonic deer alerts sponsored by the National Safety Council.

Four deer were killed on Wooster Pike last year and five the year before, with one accident causing a four-car pileup. One was hit on January 13 and had to be destroyed. There have been numerous other sightings.

Police Chief Ron Pottorf said he tried one of the devices, obtained from the Cincinnati Nature Center, and found it amazingly effective in scaring even squirrels from the path of an approaching car for a distance of over 400 feet. He said he equipped the police cars to protect village officers while on emergency runs or pursuing speeders.

Placed on the front of a car, and actuated by wind, the devices emit a high-pitched sound which frightens animals but is inaudible to the human ear.

New Eagle Scout

David Lewis, 18, is Terrace Park's newest Eagle Scout, the 49th Boy Scout to earn Scouting's highest honor in the 50-year history of Troop 286. A senior at Mariemont High School, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lewis, 104 Red Bird Ln.

Minimum requirements for the award, won by less than 2% of all Boy Scouts, call for three or more years in troop leadership, earning 21 merit badges, and completing 30 or more hours on a community service project. For his project, David did cleaning and repair work at Camp Stepping Stones.

Fire Loss Only $225

Terrace Park's residential fire loss in 1986 amounted to only $225, Fire Chief Pierce Matthews told village council in his annual report. There were, though, three vehicle fires involving less than $22,000, one an arson case involving a stolen car.

Chairman of the safety committee, Councilman Jack Schmidt commented that while residents are seldom aware of the activity, the fire department volunteers made 33 runs and the life squad 112 runs in 1986, and average of one every 2½ days.

Squad Chief Shirley Mittendorf reported an active life squad roster of 15, with two trainees on the point of certification and seven others in training. Matthews reported three new fire recruits.

Year-End Surplus of $450,000 Aids New Building Financing

Terrace Park will be able to build its new police-village office building without any special financing because of a $432,000 carry-over from 1986,

Finance chairman Bob Payne told the January council meeting.

The carry-over, up from the $302,000 surplus from 1985, results from some estate tax windfalls and sale of some village-owned property.

A tax reduction also may be in prospect. Said Payne:

"Later in the year we do have a decision to be made regarding renewal of an operating levy. There is also the question of whether we will be able to retire the tree levy a year early, as we had hoped to do. This issue cannot be resolved until we are certain of the costs facing us on the Community House project."

Payne noted that property tax revenue has been less than anticipated, adding that despite "highly visible new construction" the village will derive no immediate benefit because of delay in adding new buildings to the tax duplicate.

Even so, he said, the village share of the property tax bill is well below 30%, so that the village gets less than $300 of every $1,000 paid in taxes.

Payne's comment came as council revised and finalized the tentative budget prepared last July as required by law. It puts village expenses for the coming year at $769,002, up $162,901 from the original estimate, and revenues at $609,984 an increase of $61,644.

The budget's major increase concerned the new building project, itemized at $135,000. In that connection, council voted to employ the architects designing the structure as building project managers at a fee of 12% of cost. Councilman Rich Gilchrist said he believed that employing project managers rather than a general contractor could easily result in saving as much as the fee involved.

Other major increases were $6,000 additional on the garbage collection contract, for a total of $30,000; $6,900 more for salaries and operating expenses resulting from separation of the fire department and life squad; and $9,000 to a total of $34,445 for Hamilton County Communications services. The village is contesting the charges in court.

Adding to the village surplus is $41,111 bid by David Grayson, 750 Wooster Pike, for part of the former BBS Co. property at Wooster and Elm at the west end of the village. Village Solicitor Bob Malloy said the Brenda-more interests had failed to exercise their right of first refusal and that he planned to close the deal on February 19.

In other actions council:

- Denied a Terrace Park Players request for permission to place banners and other signs over and on village streets to promote their upcoming dinner show. Mayor Les Overway said the displays would violate village sign restrictions and granting permission would set a bad precedent.

- Approved Solicitor Bob

Bike Path Extending - But Not In Terrace Park

There is no prospect of development in the near future of a state bicycle and hiking trail along the old railroad right-of-way through Terrace Park.

Councilman Randy Casteel brought that word to the January meeting of village council after talking with Wayne Warren, deputy director of the Ohio Department of Natural Resources. They met at a Loveland meeting on development of the trail from Loveland to Milford.

Terrace Park objected when the plan was first proposed, and Casteel said Warren told him that the state was "not ready" to move against public opposition. The department too, Warren said, was involved in development between Milford and Loveland and in other areas north of Morrow where there is active support.

Mayor Les Overway said he had written state officials concerning questions about the pathway and the possibility of village annexation of the Kroger Hills area which was to have been the southern terminus. He said he had received no response and presumed there would be none in the light of Casteel's report.

The Milford pathway is expected to be in use by the spring of 1988.

Drunk-Driver Work Saves Village $53,862

Persons arrested for driving while under the influence of liquor in Terrace Park in 1986 did work for the village worth $53,862 rather than spend time in jail, according to Police Chief Ron Pottorf's annual report.

Village police made 107 arrests for that cause during the year, 10 fewer than in 1985. The report did not indicate how many took the work option.

Fines imposed in mayor's court for these and other offenses totalled $93,689 during the year, as against $87,379 in 1985.

The report said the DUIs did 4,208 man-hours of work for the village, most of it in splitting, stacking and delivering firewood resulting from the village tree renovation project. The village delivered 38 cords of wood during the year, selling it for $2,640.

Pottorf reported that village officers made 1,374 traffic arrests during the year, and 190 other arrests, 29 of which involved drug offenses. Of the traffic citations, 786 were for speeding, 59 for driving while under suspension, and 154 for license plate violations.

Seven persons were hurt in accidents on Wooster Pike, and three elsewhere in the village. There again were no fatalities.

He listed 19,299 security checks made on the homes of vacationing villagers.

Knife-Wielding Parolee Eludes Police Chase

Terrace Park Patrolman Michael Wright stopped a parolee armed with a knife on Wooster Pike on Christmas Eve, but the man broke away and evaded capture by officers from eight departments.

Identified from his papers as Gary A. Stanforth of Buckwheat Road in Milford, he was on parole for armed burglary.

Wright reported that he saw the man hitchhiking on Wooster Pike near the east corporation limits shortly before 9 p.m. and stopped him for questioning. He said the man admitted, and his papers showed, that he was on parole. When Wright ordered him to open his coat he saw a large knife in a sheath under the man's left arm.

Wright reported that the man put up a fight when told he was under arrest, and fled into the woods on the north side of the road. Wright said he lost him in the woods, and then called for help, with officers from Milford, Mariemont, Indian Hill, Fairfax, Newtown, the county and Cincinnati joining in a fruitless search.

Connie Wilson Named Board Vice-President

David Moreton of Fairfax was elected president of the Mariemont City School Board at its regular meeting January 13. He replaces Ray Bucy of Terrace Park, who was the 1986 board president. Connie Wilson of Terrace Park was elected vice president.

The board voted to continue meeting at 7:15 p.m. in the Mariemont Elementary School on the second Tuesday of each month. It also agreed to maintain the $40 compensation rate for meeting attendance with a maximum of $480 annually.

The board was asked why the Terrace Park Fire Department paid $135 for using Terrace Park Elementary School for its Pancake Supper when the Kiwanis Club of Mariemont pays no rent for permanent facilities in the Dale Park Building. Supt. Don Thompson explained "to make Dale Park self-sustaining, the policy differs from other buildings in the district."

Mariemont's newspaper, The Town Crier, is also a rent free tenant at Dale Park while the Mariemont Preservation society pays rent of $125 annually. The Terrace Park Recreation Committee uses school facilities at no charge.

69 Students Place On Honor-Merit Roll

Sixty-nine Terrace Park students were listed on the first quarter honor/merit roll at Mariemont High School.

Pack To Honor Cub Anniversary

Thane Maynard of the Cincinnati Zoo will "show and tell" about zoo animals at the year's first Cub Pack meeting of Pack 97 at 7 p.m. on Thursday, January 29, at St. Thomas Church. Pack meetings hereafter will be held on the fourth Tuesday of each month.

The February meeting, on February 26, will feature the annual Blue and Gold dinner for parents and immediate family. Cubs will celebrate the 57th anniversary of Cub Scouting with skits and awards.

Two Doctors Named To Hospital Staff

Dr. G. Franklin Lowe and Dr. Lloyd Owens, both of Terrace Park, have been named members-at-large for 1987 on the medical staff of Our Lady of Mercy Mariemont and Anderson Hospital. Dr. J. Harry Stagaman of Indian Hill was chosen for his second term as staff president.

Both Terrace Park physicians are family practitioners, Dr. Lowe having offices in Milford and Dr. Owens in Madeira.

Village Aided By Garden Club Christmas Tour

Terrace Park Garden Club reports $1,170 netted from the Christmas house tour. The funds will be used for continued bulb, tree and shrub plantings at the village green, Terrace Park school, the Community House, along Terrace Place, and at entrances to the community.

The club will hold a night meeting, open to all residents and guest, at 7:30 p.m. on Tuesday, February 3, in the St. Thomas Church undercroft. Mary Krumholz will speak on "A New Look at Landscaping for 1987."

This year's activities opened with a meeting at the Community House on January 6 with a workshop on basket-making conducted by Judy Selzer, and the welcoming of Helen Tollefsen and Pat Matthews as new members.

Village School To Hold Fine Arts Festival

This year's PTA Fine Arts Festival scheduled for Feb. 18-20 at Terrace Park Elementary School will have an international flavor. Fine arts chairman Debbie Carle said the festival will feature local artisans as well as dancers and AFS students from distant lands.

Leading the artisans is Ellis Rawnsley who will demonstrate wood turning February 18 from 12:30 to 2:30 p.m. Glass blowing, basket weaving and spinning will also be demonstrated.

Paul Short, who designs sets for the Cincinnati Opera, will also appear February 18.

Ethnic festivities will begin February 19 with a dozen AFS students lunching with Terrace Park students in the school cafeteria. Special guests will include the three AFS students now residing in Terrace Park. Representing the Dominican Republic is Patricia (Pakki) Villegas, who lives with Mr. and Mrs. John E. Armstrong, 209 Stanton. Helene Junkrans, who lives with Mr. and Mrs. Greg Todd, 116 Fieldstone will share her Swedish customs and Alessandro Campi who resides with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Smith at 625 Elm will represent Italy.

Terrace Park sixth graders Ian Ross and Chuck Armstrong will share their experiences at this year's Childrens International Summer Villages. Ross spent a month in England and Armstrong visited Norway.

Earns Doctorate

Newly-appointed principal of Terrace Park elementary school, Mrs. Michele Hummel has completed requirements for a degree as Doctor of Education in administration at Rutgers University, successfully defending her dissertation on "A Contingency Model for the Supervision of Student Teachers." The degree will be awarded at Rutgers commencement in May.

In Play Cast

Dennie Carle, of 710 Franklin, was a member of the cast of the play, "No Body's Perfect," presented by Women's Theatre of Cincinnati at Westwood Town Hall December 11-13.

Street Tree Renovation Nears End

Village Council accepted a $13,326 bid from the Townsend Tree Service for the final year of the street tree renovation program. There remains only replanting for trees to be taken down this season.

The bid was the lowest of eight received, the highest being $18,043. Townsend's bid was recommended by Steve Sanford, village tree consultant.

It calls for removing nine trees, grinding of 20 stumps, and pruning of 350 other trees.

Village Administrator Ron Pottorf noted that the village has about 15 cords of firewood available for sale.

Commission Rejects Plan To Split Property

Holding that the proposal did not meet zoning requirements, the village Planning and Zoning Commission has rejected a bid by Mrs. Harold Smith to split a building lot from the rear of her property at 722 Wooster Pike.

Mrs. Smith told the commission that she had followed the advice of then-mayor Carl Lindell in splitting off another lot some years ago so as to provide for a remaining buildable lot. The tract has access to Indian Hill Road, but Village Solicitor Bob Malloy said it did not meet the current requirement that a lot have its principal frontage on a public street or other place approved by village council.
