

Council Seeks Control Of Increasing Expenses

Council reviewed at its May meeting the draft budget for 1996 which anticipates a 4% decrease in receipts and a 4% increase in expenditures. If the budget figures prove accurate the Village should have deficits of $56,608 in 1995 and $135,919 in 1996. The estimated cash balances for January, 1995 are $740,231 and $547,704 in 1997.

The decrease in revenues includes a $12,500 decrease in Mayor's Court revenues and a $25,000 reduction in inheritance taxes. The auditor recommended the Village reduce its budgeted inheritance tax from $50,000 to $25,000, although the actual inheritance taxes collected in 1994 were $110,087 and $45,111, so far this year.

The major increases in expenditures in the 1996 draft budget are $15,551 or 4.8% in police salaries and benefits and the purchase of a police cruiser at $18,000.

Bottom line, if the figures in the draft budget prove accurate, Council may have to ask for a 3 mil tax increase on the May, 1996 ballot with collection beginning in 1997. This Council is reluctant to increase the tax payor's burden and in fact decreased the millage last year. In discussion, Council members recommended maintaining cash balances sufficient to cover four to six months of expenses. Rusty Wilson also reminded Council that the village's property tax is only 20% of the total property tax paid by village residents.

A budget hearing will be held before the June Council meeting on the 13th.

Council had the first of three readings of an ordinance setting the tree assessment at .6 per $1,000, or $60 per $100,000 house value. The assessment had been reduced from .6 to .4 but now requires the increase to cover the $32,060 tree budget. The assessment is levied annually and the millage can be changed yearly. Terrace Park bases it on the valuation per parcel rather than by running foot. It is paid once a year on the December tax bill.

Councilman Keefe expressed concern over the "arbitrary" number of trees on village property set for removal each year for the next five years. Council member Julie Rugh reminded Council members this number is necessary to remove the number of trees rated poor in the Tree Inventory. Of the 2,539 trees inventoried, 286 were rated poor, and many of these were planted in the late 1800's.

Although Council members had received copies of the Tree Inventory and Five Year Plan, they did not question Village Arborist Randy Haller about the number set for removal when he came to the April meeting to answer questions. The 1996 tree program budget of $32,060 reflects a reduction from the $37,000 budget recommended in the Five Year Plan prepared by Haller.

IRS Grants V. Views Tax Exempt Status

It is with a great deal of pleasure and pride the Village Views announces it has been granted exemption from federal and state income taxes under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code. After lengthy and detailed communication with the IRS office in Cincinnati and Washington, D.C. the Village Views was granted tax exempt status, which means your donations are tax deductible.

In the early stages of the negotiations, the Village Views was told newspapers do not typically receive 501(c)(3) status. The Village Views, as we were able to point out, is no ordinary newspaper. It is mailed to every address in Terrace Park. The only paid subscriptions are for out-of-town recipients of the newspaper. The paper is not a public relations piece for the council, schools or any other organization in Terrace Park. It reports the facts and news about the organizations, both good and bad. Thankfully, the positive far outweighs the negative in the village and is reflected in the newspaper.

In the 1994 Statement of Revenues and Expenses, prepared for the Village Views by Kevin Shell, the revenues included $5,719 in advertising and $3,840 in donations with an additional $70 in interest. The expenses were: printing, $6,865; delivery, $1,472; additional postage, $80; personnel, $870; supplies, $330; photography, $42; charitable contributions, $15; fees and licenses, $350. The expenses of $10,024 exceed revenues of $9,629 by $395. The cash balance at the end of the year was $3,123.

As you can see, the Village Views can not survive without your donations. May is the month we ask the residents of Terrace Park to support the Village Views. Please send in your tax deductible donation in the attached envelope.

The paper relies on the residents of the village for more than financial aid. It could not survive without the time and energy so freely given by many residents. The Village Views appreciates your support.

Village Honors Charlotte Molitor

Village officials, employees and residents thanked Charlotte Molitor for her 12 years of service as Terrace Park's Clerk of Courts and Secretary at an Open House at the Community House May 19.

Molitor's retirement June 2 ends a dozen years of service to the village during which she "guided" five mayors through countless evenings in Mayor's Court. As Jack Schmidt's father-in-law concluded after observing his Mayor's Court, the Mayor did a pretty good job but that lady really ran the show. That lady, was Charlotte Molitor.

The mother of nine children, Molitor pointed out that when she first came to work for the village, many of the police officers were the same ages as her children. Her mothering skills of firm organization, caring and listening were shared with those in her office.

Village residents and employees honored Molitor with the purchase of a tree to be planted at her new home in Brown County. Tributes from people who hate to see her leave, but wish her well in her retirement, include:

"I would like to thank Charlotte Molitor for her 12 years of dedicated service to the village. She has helped me through my ten year's in Village government and was always willing to give 110% to the Village. Good Luck with your retirement. Have fun. Thank You." Mayor Randy Casteel

"Char has been a friend; she has been my shoulder to cry on and has shared my happy times. She was always here for me when I needed her, I will never be able to put into words how I feel about her. I am sad that she is leaving, but feel confident that she will now have peace in her mind. We will miss her, but always love her." Police Chief Robert W. Bacon

"Char has the great gift of being an active and sincere listener. When you dealt with Char, you always felt that she wanted to understand your personal problem so she could resolve it for you. And this came across whether Char was dealing with a member of council, a resident, or someone facing a problem in Mayor's Court. This was a perfect complement to her absolute mastery of her job. What a wonderful lady and valuable employee." Former Mayor Jack Schmidt

"Char is a lady in all ways. Her concern is for her job, her family and helping others. Her job may be done by someone else, but she is irreplaceable." Village Clerk Francine Glassmeyer

TP Elementary School Designated District Court

Magistrate Judge Robert Steinberg, second from right, and David Lewis, third from right, congratulate America's newest citizens after naturalization ceremonies

Terrace Park Elementary School was designated a district court May 12 for the purpose of conducting the naturalization ceremony for 45 of America's newest citizens. Magistrate Judge Robert Steinberg welcomed the new citizens and explained wherever a judge presides under the American flag is a district court. With the flag billowing from the pole under the sun drenched skies, the school's front lawn became a courtroom with the reading of an official announce-

PTA Seeks Veterans To March in Parade

Newly elected PTA Vice President and Memorial Day Parade Marshal Melanie Hynden invites all veterans to march in this year's Memorial Day Parade, Monday, May 29. In recognition of the 50th anniversary of the Victory in Europe, the parade will honor the veterans of World War II, who will march behind the Boy Scout Color Guard.

This year's parade will include the Mariemont High School Marching Band, kids with bicycles, fire trucks, E.M.S. and police vehicles and the Terrace Park Pops Band. Pops band master Al Nelson invites all village musicians, new and old, to perform with the pops. Interested performers should call Nelson at 831-9220.

The Rev. Bob Patterson, of Amherst Avenue, will invoke the benediction and Mayor Randy Casteel will speak. Mary Kipp's third grade Brownies will lay the memorial wreath before the flag.

Cathy DeDiemar is in charge of the PTA Bake Sale on the Green. Fund Raising Commissioner for the Terrace Park Recreation Committee Bill Drackett said the winners of the Memorial Day Raffle will be drawn at the Green after the parade.

This year's parade will follow the traditional route of Myrtle, Stanton, Yale and Amherst to the Village Green. Parade participants should meet behind the school at 9:30 a.m. and will begin marching at 10.

As Principal Jerry Sasson told the new citizens, their families, guests and the entire student body, "This is a very special opportunity to witness a live civics lesson." He thanked Terrace Park resident Sue Troller, who is law clerk for U.S. District Judge Carl Rubin, for initiating the opportunity. Troller, who began planning for the ceremony in the fall, said the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service wants to bring the courtroom into the communities as part of its outreach program.

Sasson also thanked the PTA as its members, Laurie Heffner, Erin Rosson and Sandy Wittman-Shell served the refreshments after the ceremony. The sixth graders decorated the table and Diane Gunter made the flower decorations. Music teacher Brenda Miller provided the music accompaniment and directed the student's choral program. Jill Croswell arranged for a Croswell bus to transport the new citizens to the school.

Featured speaker David Lewis welcomed the citizens to their new home, declaring the U.S. is the richest country because the great diversity of its people makes it the land of opportunity. Lewis, a native of England and a Terrace Park resident of ten years, said he became a naturalized citizen in ceremonies at the Cincinnati Convention Center in 1990. Editorial Director for F & W Publications, Lewis told the new citizens there are 23 million home business in this country where people can be the masters of their own destinies.

Judge Steinberg reminded the audience the Constitution did not establish the rights for the government but for the citizens. He noted each citizen is important and has great worth.

The new citizens came from 19 different countries, including, Pakistan, Canada, England, Vietnam, India, Philippines, Italy, Taiwan, Netherlands, Lebanon, Egypt, Jordan, Israel, Mexico, Haiti, Ukraine, South Korea, Cambodia and Greece.

TP Garden Club Members Reminisce First 75 Years

by Ruth Rauth

At the Terrace Park Garden Club's 75th Anniversary Celebration luncheon May 2, members wore flower decorated hats and poked fun at past club practices with a skit. Featured as ladies of different generations in "The Ladies of the Club" were Jane Peterson, Norvita Hildbold, Diane DeCamp, Ginny Alter, Ruth Lanner and Blanche Kain.

Newer members found amusing the social practices of the twenties amusing when hats and gloves were worn to meetings. In the 30's members gave bouquets from their gardens to salesgirls at downtown department stores. Activism of the forties, such as Victory Gardens and Savings Bond Sales during World War II gave way to concern for the environment, village beautification and school Arbor Day projects. Plant sales, Christmas house tours and flower shows begun in the sixties are still among the club projects. Now one may observe members working at the Memorial Garden wearing the bright green TPGC T shirts. Times change and the Garden Club has changed with them!

Ginny Alter and Effie Miller were honored as members for more than fifty years. Debbie Oliver, outgoing President, and Lane Grever were applauded for their awards and ribbons won at the Ault Park Flower Show. Lanie Grever, winner of the most horticultural and artistic points for the year and five runners up were awarded gift certificates for the Garden Club Plant Sale.

New board members installed at the anniversary meeting included: President, Judy Brown; Vice President and Program Chairman, Frances Stafford; Co-treasurers, Joy Zdeblick and Marcie Schuttie; Recording Secretary, Ruth Rauth; Members At Large, Debbie Oliver, Barbara Self, Helen Tollefsen and Lucy Maish.

Police Check Possible Child Enticement Case

Officer Tim Chin responded to a call for a possible child enticement in progress on May 10. Two children said a white male who was in the bushes started talking with them and offered them a lollipop when they were down along the bike path. The children, who ran away screaming, reported the man ran down the bike path toward Dennison.

Although no one was seen in the area that fit the description, Police Chief Bob Bacon said all cases are thoroughly checked out. He noted a great deal of police time has been spent in the last year checking out reports of possible child enticement. He concluded there did not seem to be any pattern to some of the reports, but each one must be thoroughly investigated to protect the safety of the children in the village.

Hamilton County Sets Four Dates For Hazardous Waste Collection

Hamilton County Department of Environmental Services will conduct a county-wide Household Hazardous Waste Collection Program for the following materials: oil and latex paints, stains, sealers, thinners, solvents, automotive fluids like anti-freeze and motor oil, pesticides, tarnish and stain removers, automotive and household batteries, and miscellaneous consumer aerosol products that have no further use.

Items that will not be collected or accepted at the collection events include: regular trash, yard waste, large quantities of unknown materials, ammunition and explosives, drugs (over-the-counter, prescription and illegal), medical waste (syringes, tubes, etc.) tires, gas cylinders, fuel or heating oil tanks, radioactive materials (including smoke detectors), flares, and pressurized fire extinguishers.

Locations for the collection centers open 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. are:
June 3 & 4: Winton Woods High School

June 10 & 11: Cincinnati State (off Ludlow)

June 17 & 18: Ethicon, Blue Ash

June 24 & 25 Hamilton County Engineers Maintenance Facility, Miamitown

Trees Continue Vital Role in TP

by Lanie Grever

Trees continue to be an important resource of the village. Terrace Park recently received its tenth Annual Tree City Award from the National Arbor Day Foundation, an organization dedicated to tree planting and conservation. Alan F. Bunker of the Ohio Department of Natural Resources presented this award at the annual Southwestern Ohio Tree City USA Program to Randy Haller, Terrace Park's Urban Forrester. The village also received a growth award for Terrace Park's continual education program, tree workers, community public relations and the community wide Earth Day held in April, 1994.

Terrace Park has been chosen to host this program April 19, 1996. Bob Henley and Al Nelson have agreed to chair this event for the village.

The nationally recognized Tree City award is presented annually to those communities which have met four standards in maintaining the trees growing along their streets and in their parks: a tree ordinance, a legal tree governing body, a comprehensive tree program supported by an annual budget of at least $2 per capita and an observance of Arbor Day.

Terrace Park observed Arbor Day with the first grade students at Terrace Park Elementary on April 28. Under a beautiful, sunny sky in the side yard of the school, village resident Bob Terwilliger taught the first graders about planting the Sargent crab apple - Malus sarenti. Each first grader received a Sargent crab apple seedling to plant in their own yard, complements of the Terrace Park Garden Club, which also presented the school library with the book, Arbor Day.

The Tree Inventory and a comprehensive five year plan have been completed by the Tree Committee. Anyone wishing to join this group, please contact Randy Haller. The Tree Committee usually meets the fourth Thursday at 7 p.m. in the Firehouse Squad Room. Alan Bunker will attend the next meeting May 25 to discuss the Tree City Awards

Recreation Committee Sponsors Summer Fun

by Sandy Wittman-Shell

Christine Weidhaas and Kathy Swart presented at the May 8 Terrace Park Recreation Committee meeting a detailed plan for a Summer Fun craft program. The program would be free to all village resident children in completed grades K-6 from June 19 through July 14 from 1 to 3 p.m. weekdays.

Weidhaas or Swart would be present every day along with a parent volunteer and Julie Porter, a village resident and Mariemont High School Senior. Participation in the program would require "parent/adult volunteer for two hours of time and a strict sign-in and out program would be followed. Students needing their 40 community service hours would also assist in supervision.

After the committee went into executive session, TPRC agreed to fund the Summer Fun program with $1,500. The Terrace Park Elementary PTA voted at its May 2 meeting to donate $400 to Summer Fun and on May 9 Village Council voted to donate $800, a $200 increase.

The outdoor sports program to be run by Julie Smith will run at the same time as the craft program.

Glenn Lindahl came to the TPRC meeting with questions and suggestions concerning individual trophies, playing by grade level vs age and coach selection. Julie Smith had presented a policy on coach selection for consideration by the TPRC at its April meeting.

Fund Raising Commissioner Bill Drackett said Memorial Day raffle tickets are printed and will be distributed May 12 and should be returned by May 22, in time for the drawing at the green after the Memorial Day Parade.

Treasurer Doug Burgess reported 117 responses to the annual family fee letter. Commissioners were asked to assist Burgess with current team rosters to determine the actual number of families participating in TPRC programs.

Softball Commissioner Steve Wilson announced the season is running smoothly with most of the rain-outs re-scheduled and the season underway. Wilson also mentioned there is interest in an instructional softball program, possibly in the future. Baseball Commissioner Skip Kirby stated there are five teams of instructional T ball with 11 children per team. Terrace Park was able to field an eighth/ninth grade A team major with Dave Moyer as the coach. Kirby also discussed the long overdue raising of umpire fees.

Soccer Commissioner Jamie Egasti mailed soccer information and registration the week of May 4 and will hold registration at the school cafeteria Sat., June 3. The cut-off for soccer registration will be June 10 and the league draw will be the last week of June. Instructional soccer information for next year's Kindergartners will be sent out in the fall. Jack Herman's soccer clinic will be held at Drackett Field June 5-9 from 6-9 p.m. for children ages five to 17. There was positive discussion of fielding two girls and one boys seventh/eighth grade teams and the ability to use Stanton Field.

Basketball Commissioner John Finnigan reported the portable basketball hoops have been received and will be installed during summer vacation. Julie Smith plans to conduct a second grade instructional program next year.

Fields Commissioner Jack Forbes announced the excess rain may be cause for extra grass cutting. He spoke with the Swim Club board in helping to cut down the weed problem. Forbes is hoping to have weed killer sprayed at the fields on Memorial Day weekend. Please Look for and observe posted signs to stay off the fields when they are sprayed. Scott Wilson will be paid to assist in field maintenance beginning in mid-May. Forbes hopes to have a trainee work with Wilson to learn the ropes for the future.

An inventory was taken of equipment at the storage barn; unneeded items will be put into the TPRC rummage sale on Sept. 2.

Mayor Welcomes New Clerk of Courts

I am very pleased to welcome Mrs. Jennifer Heideman to the Village of Terrace Park as the new clerk of courts/Village Secretary. Jennifer comes to us with the skills and personality to handle this position skillfully. For the past four years she has handled the position of second shift police clerk for a local police department.

She begins her employment on May 8 and will work hand in hand with Mrs. Charlotte Molitor to succeed in a smooth transition of this position. Charlotte will retire June 2.

I would like to thank the Safety Committee as well as Mrs. Alice Wilson and Mrs. Francine Glassmeyer for their help in finding our replacement. Over 60 resumes were reviewed and it took many hours of evaluation and reassessment to select this outstanding candidate.

Mayor Randy Casteel

Museum Honors TP Volunteers

Two Terrace Park residents were among the 100 volunteers of the Cincinnati Art Museum honored at the Museum's 21st Annual Volunteer Recognition Day Celebration May 1. Lucy Maish was honored for her ten years of service to the Museum and Amy Heilbronner received her five year award. The Museum's volunteer force ranks fourth in the nation in the number of volunteers.

Council member Sally Gilchrist presented Alan Griffith and Chris Smith with plaques in appreciation of their long service to the village. Griffith gave more than 26 years of service to the village on the Planning and Zoning Committee and the Board of Appeals while Smith served as village engineer before becoming a member of the Zoning Board of Appeals. Gilchrist said their contribution required more than time, they had the understanding of the past and foresight for the future of the village. Previous Mayors Les Overway and Chuck Rockel also thanked the gentlemen for their contributions to the village.

Christine Weidhaas sought Council's support for a revitalized Summer Fun Program. Council increased the Village's contribution to the program from $600 to $800.

A termite swarm at the May session of Mayor's Court announced the return of the pests. The company that treated the Community House four or five years ago is no longer in business.
